AEC Sets Off Biggest '55 Atomic Test Blast

River Areas Prepare for Flood Crests

Swollen Ohio Rises Toward Highest Peak In Years; Loss Light

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio River continued to rise slowly today toward crests that will be the highest in several years.

There were no reports of any heavy damage from the flood-swollen stream but hundreds of families have been removed from their lowland homes and there were some business interruptions all along the river's course in Ohio.

Crests of 61 feet were predicted at Cincinnati where flood stage is 52 feet; 60 feet at Portsmouth where the flood level is 50 feet; 62.5 feet at Ashland, Ky., which has a 51-foot flood stage; 59 feet at Huntington, W. Va, which has a 50-foot flood level and 57 feet at Gallipolis with its 50-foot stage.

Due Tonight at Gallipolis

Barring additional rains, the crests were due to be reached at Gallipolis this evening and then later on in the week further downstream.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said tentatively that the 61-foot crest here would be reached early Thursday.

The Kyger Creek power plant project in Gallia County where 2,000 construction workers are employed, was closed by the flood and all Gallia County schools were closed.

Gallipolis was isolated in three directions and Road 7, north and south of town, was closed for the first time in seven years.

Main Street in Pomeroy was under four to five feet of water in some places and business houses have been evacuated.

Schools Closed

A 60-foot crest at Portsmouth would knock out the only road leading to the west—U.S. 52. Washington Twp schools in West Portsmouth were closed.

At Cincinnati, two more gates in the Millcreek barrier dam were closed today. The barrier dam prevents the Ohio River from backing into the heavily industrialized Millcreek Valley.

Gate 5, the biggest in the entire floodwall, will have to be closed if the river reaches 60.9 feet and that is a 24-hour job, necessitating a crew of 15 to 25 workmen.

The state highway patrol reported the river was falling above Marietta and said 2,400 persons in 603 families had been evacuated. The crest of 38.3 feet was reached at Marietta yesterday and the water overflowed into low-lying farmlands and some Marietta city streets.

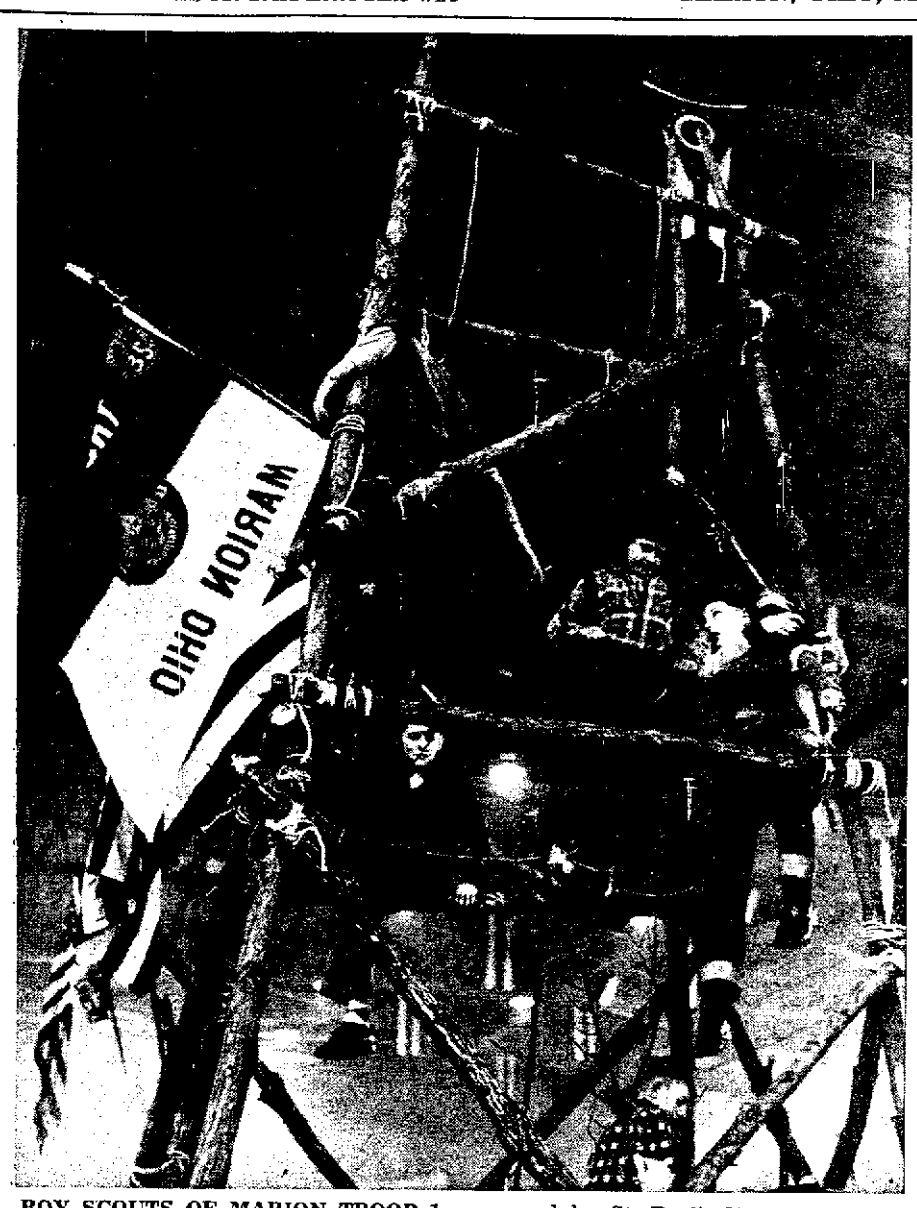
Mercury Dips To 12; Cold To Stay Tonight

A late winter chill covered the nation east of the Rocky Mountains today and rolled into the South as far as northern Georgia and northern Texas.

Snow flurries Sunday morning covered the ground around Marion and the area with about half an inch of snow, most of which melted during the day when the skies cleared and the sun came out.

The mercury climbed to 34 Sunday but skidded during the night to an overnight low of 12, according to local weather observers. A year ago, the high was 46 and the low 25.

Snow flurries occurred again here this morning.



BOY SCOUTS OF MARION TROOP 1, sponsored by St. Paul's Episcopal Church, erect a tower 20 feet high as their part in a display of Scouting skills presented Sunday at a Scout-O-Rama in the Veterans Memorial Coliseum. The show drew an estimated attendance of 3,000 and featured, in addition to booth displays by 34 troops, cub packs and posts, a closing ceremony on the heritage of scouting.

34 Units in 4-County Harding Council Take Part

Approximately 3,000 persons attended the 1955 Boy Scout Scout-O-Rama staged by 34 units in the Harding Area Council Sunday afternoon in the Marion Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

Booths entered by each unit and a pageant, "The Heritage of Scouting" were highlights of the three-hour program.

IN BOOTH JUDGING, Pack 29 of George Washington PTA was awarded first prize in the Cub Scout group. Its theme was "Gifts to Mom and Dad."

Pack 12, Glenwood Boosters Club, was second and Pack 2, Oakland PTA, placed third.

A booth entered by Troop 30, Cardington Rotary Club, with rope making as its theme, was selected as the best of the Boy Scout entries. Troop 7, Central Christian Church, was second while Troop 44, Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church of Upper Sandusky, copped third place.

IN EXPLORER competition, Post 2 of Edison Junior High School PTA was first and Ship 59, Marion Navy Club, placed second. Theme of the winning booth was "Advance Cooking."

Booth themes at yesterday's show included cooking, outdoor camping, conservation, handicraft, first aid, fire building, life in an Indian village, gold rush, hobbies, Scout advancement, safe handling of rifles, seasons of the year, flag history and display, Cub Scout themes for 1955, Indian lore, the history of Chief Tarhe, and patriotic den skits.

A PAGEANT on the history of Scouting closed the Scout-O-Rama program. Boys from nineteen units from the four counties included in the Harding Area Council took part in the ceremony. Directors of the five separate scenes in the pageant were George Bull Jr.,

Senate Leader Hits Proposed Tax Reduction

Florida Democrat Says House Approved Cuts Without Conferences

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Holland (D-Fla), says he will oppose the $20-a-person income tax cut passed by House Democrats.

"We Senate Democrats were not consulted on the $20 reduction by our colleagues in the House," he said in a statement, "nor have we held any party conference on it, so the matter is not a party issue."

But pointing up its political significance, a Democrat who asked not to be named said he has no doubt that a "campaign document" is being prepared as the minority report of six Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee who supported the tax cut. He said it will be used in the 1956 campaign.

Senators Byrd (D-Va) and George (D-Ga) voted with seven Republicans on the committee to knock out the tax cut provision which the House had passed after a bitter partisan battle. Byrd said last week at least 10 Senate Democrats would support his stand on the Senate floor, but he declined to name them.

In addition to Holland, Sen. Ellender (D-La) said during the

Local Resident Loses Life in Auto Accident

Mose Sims Jr. Dies After Car Swerves Off Highway West of City

Mose Sims Jr., 35, of 196 Harrison St., died shortly after 10 p.m. Sunday night at Marion General Hospital, three hours after an automobile accident on Route 30-S west of Marion.

He became Marion County's second traffic fatality of the year.

Local authorities investigated 15 other accidents in the county over the weekend. Patrolmen investigated five accidents, in which one person was injured; police investigated eight accidents, with two persons injured; and the sheriff's office investigated two accidents, in which one person was hospitalized.

Sims sustained a cerebral concussion, crushed chest, punctured lung, and lacerated right cheek. Sims, evidently alone, was traveling east on Route 30-S, about two miles west of Route 203, when he left the road on a curve while apparently driving at a high speed, investigating state highway patrolmen reported.

He then apparently lost control of his vehicle on the berm, and it came back across the highway to the left side where it overturned.

U.S. Force in Pacific Can Defend Anything, Adm. Stump Declares

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The boss of the U.S. Pacific Fleet says, "If the United States is willing we can defend anything against the Communists."

But the statement left the Reds guessing.

Adm. Felix B. Stump was asked by newsmen whether his statement included the Communist-menaced Matsu Islands, 20 miles off the mainland.

He replied, "Anything."

No U.S. Announcement

However, top American officials have not specifically and publicly said what action would be taken in event of a Red assault on the Matsus or Quemoy, another Nationalist island across the Formosa Strait.

Nationalist officials, in a briefing for correspondents, said the Matsus are being steadily reinforced and will have a larger garrison than did the Tachens before the latter islands were abandoned to the Reds. There were more than 11,000 troops on the Tachens.

They said Stump had left some of his staff officers to study defense requirements on the Matsus. Military roads and strong fortifications are being built on the islands, the Nationalists said.

However, the Defense Ministry reported today Communist guns at Amoy fired 19 shells on the Tan Islets 224 miles to the south of the Red port but caused no damage or casualties. The communique didn't say whether the Nationalists fired back.

Makes Visit to Matsus

Stump visited the Matsus yesterday. He was here several days for conferences concerning Formosa's defense. He had a final talk this morning with President Chiang Kai-shek before going to Hong Kong.

Asked if there was a danger of war, Stump told newsmen, "It depends on the Communists. We are not the aggressors — they are."

The offshore island front has been quiet the past few days.

A Taipei newspaper credited the Defense Ministry with saying that speculation that the Nationalists will pull out from the Matsus is groundless and that the islands will "not be abandoned now or in the future without a bitter fight."

Spectacular Tower Shot Lights Skies

Flash Described as Most Dazzling Ever Seen at Yucca Flat

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The largest atomic device tested in the 1955 nuclear series exploded today with a predawn brilliance that dazzled observers in several Western states.

The blinding flash of the bigger than average A-weapon startled observers on a mountain peak 55 miles away and lit up skies briefly like an early sunrise over Southern California, 250 miles away.

The detonation from a 500-foot tower, highest ever used in a Nevada test, packed a wallop considerably greater than the standard A-bomb, but its shock apparently bounced on uninhabited areas. Las Vegas, 75 miles from the Yucca Flat test site, did not feel the blast.

20-Second Fireball

The 20-second fireball attested to the size of the device. The previous three explosions in this series failed to produce fireballs of more than six or seven seconds duration.

The flash was reported seen as far as Klamath Falls, Ore., nearly 550 airline miles away. It also was seen in San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Phoenix, Ariz., and south of the border in Mexico.

Clear weather conditions gave Los Angeles its best view of any atomic test. This was the 35th shot at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada site.

GI's in Trenches

More than 100 planes—Air Force Navy and Marines—took part in the test, with 66 of them coordinating in a simulated attack mission on the target area. The AEC said 77 planes were airborne at the time of the blast, accounting for vapor trails high in the sky above and to the side of the fireball.

A contingent of 550 soldiers and 25 Marines huddled in trenches 5,500 yards from ground zero and then moved forward in another

Aggressor Against Egypt

Israel Hit by U.N.'s Truce Commission

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel has been charged by the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission as a "brutal" aggressor who deliberately attacked Egyptian forces in the Gaza Strip a week ago.

The armistice group said the bloody assault in which 38 Egyptians and 8 Israelis died violated the 1949 Palestine truce agreement.

The commission's ruling yesterday heightened speculation at U.N. headquarters in New York that the Security Council would vote similar censure against Israel when it takes up the explosive issue again next week.

To Make Personal Report

Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns of Canada, U. N. Palestine truce chief, was expected to leave for New York in a few days to give the Security Council a personal report on the Gaza incident, which has strained relations in Palestine to the breaking point.

At yesterday's meeting on the Egyptian-Israeli border, the truce commission adopted an Egyptian resolution declaring the Gaza attack Feb. 28 "was committed by Israeli regular army forces against an Egyptian regular army force." It was carried over Israeli objections by the votes of the Egyptian delegation and the U. N. chairman, Commandant Francois Geicomaggi of France.

Israel Appeals

At the same time the commission brushed aside an Israeli counter complaint that an Egyptian unit had ambushed an Israeli patrol, starting a running fight that took the Israelis into Egyptian territory. This complaint was killed off when the Egyptian delegation voted against it and Geicomaggi abstained.

Israel appealed the condemnation decision to a special committee headed by Burns, who was not present at the eight-hour meeting.

At its initial meeting on the Gaza incident last Friday, all the Security Council's 11 members except Russia denounced the affair. Russia remained silent. Most of them indicated they blamed Israel and voiced sympathy for Egypt.

Border tension was heightened over the weekend by more demonstrations in the Egyptian-held Gaza area. For the second time Arab refugees marched to Government House and demanded that Egyptian authorities give them arms to fight the Israelis.

As a safety precaution, 16 wives and children of the U. N. truce observers in the area were sent to the Arab sector of Jerusalem.

14 Killed in Formosa Crash of Air Force C54

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane carrying 14 persons crashed yesterday in the cloud-hidden mountains of southeast Formosa.

Search planes spotted the wreckage today and reported no sign of survivors. Rescue parties were on the way to the scene.

The C54 was on a flight from Okinawa with five crewmen, nine passengers and a replacement engine for another U. S. Air Force plane stranded in Hong Kong.

Witness in FCC Hearing Cited By Grand Jury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Marie Natvig, turnabout witness at Federal Communications Commission hearings, was indicted today on nine charges of lying under oath.

Mrs. Natvig, 51, Miami Beach divorcee, first gave testimony tending to link Edwad Lamb, publisher-broadcaster, with communism but later repudiated this testimony.

Lamb has denied any Communist connections.

The perjury indictment against Mrs. Natvig was returned by a federal grand jury before U.S. Distict Judge Charles F. McLaughlin.

At the request of J. Frank Cunningham, a Justice Department attorney, Judge McLaughlin ordered a bench warrant issued for the arrest of Mrs. Natvig.

Rumors Princess To Wed Revived by British Press

LONDON (AP)—Persistent press rumors that Princess Margaret will wed divorced air ace Peter Townsend got unexpected support today. A big-circulation tabloid carried an interview with the RAF group captain indicating there may be something to the stories.

British papers first dropped hints that Margaret was in love with Townsend — more than 15 years her senior — two years ago when he was an equerry in the royal household and they were frequently seen together at social functions.

Townsend "Banished"

The reports died down a short time later after Townsend suddenly was whisked off to Brussels as air attache at the British Embassy. Since then, as far as the British public knows, they haven't met.

But two big Sunday papers — the People and the Pictorial — asserted this weekend that the romance is still very much alive.

Today the Mirror, which is under the same ownership as the Pictorial — asserted this weekend that the romance is still very much alive and that the matter will soon come to a head.

'Nice To Hear'

Mirror reporter Howard Johnson said he told Townsend that the Pictorial had commented that if Margaret "places above all the man she loves, then she need fear no enduring rebuke."

He quoted Townsend as replying, "That is nice to hear."

Johnson said he also told Townsend the Pictorial had predicted there soon would be an announcement from Buckingham Palace

Reports on 7-Nation Tour

U.S. Readiness To Fight Bolsters Asia, Dulles Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles continues his report to President Eisenhower today on what he found during a two-week, 26,000-mile look at what he called "the forward positions of freedom" in Asia.

He spent an hour an a half with the President late yesterday, and planned to return to the White House for further conferences today.

Dulles returned yesterday from his tour of seven Asian nations, saying he found "courage and love of liberty and hope." Much of the hope, he said, is based on U.S. power and willingness to fight.

Referring to the countries as the forward positions of freedom, he said they are "positions which the Chinese Communists are desperately trying to take."

Dulles plans a radio-television report to the nation tomorrow night. Details are being worked out.

Dulles went to the Far East last month to help forge a new link in the West's Pacific defenses. He did that at Bangkok, Thailand, where the eight-nation Manila Pact organized its Southeast Asia defenses, and at Taipei, Formosa, where he set in motion the U. S.-Nationalist China Defense Treaty.

These tie in to similar treaties with Australia, New Zealand, Japan, South Korea and the Philippines.

ATTORNEY, 89, DIES

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The Warren County Bar Assn. lost its dean yesterday with the death of W. Chester Maple, 89. He became ill during church services and succumbed at his home. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Atomic Research Begun In Yugoslavia, Tito Says

LONDON (AP)—President Marshal Tito said today Yugoslav scientists are engaging in atomic research and soon will seek to generate nuclear power for productive purposes.

In a statement prepared for the Yugoslav Parliament and broadcast by the Belgrade radio, Tito said: "Well equipped institutes have been founded in Belgrade, Zagreb and Ljubljana for nuclear research. . . Yugoslavia has ample raw materials for exploitation of nuclear power for peaceful industrial purposes and it is in the position directly to undertake work toward the generation of nuclear power."

Akron Judge Rules

Stow Couple, Deaf, Blind, Wins Fight To Keep Baby

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A deaf and blind couple today won their fight to keep their 2-week-old baby, as a Juvenile Court judge ruled the county welfare department can't make them put it in a foster home.

Judge Russell Thomas said Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hathaway can keep their son "with no strings attached."

Hearing Held

The ruling came after a two hour informal hearing sought by the welfare department. Welfare Director Leo Mulhearn said he wanted the hearing to find out if the baby should not be placed with foster parents who could see.

Hathaway, 53, and his wife, Georgia, 32, were supported by friends and neighbors from near-by Stow where they live. They had claimed that despite their handicaps they were able to care for the child.

Mrs. Hathaway said the healthy, normal child "is the only thing I ever had of my own in my whole life."

Hathaway was informed of the judge's decision by a friend who wrote the words on his hand. He asked to be led to the judge. He shook the judge's hand and thanked him. Then Hathaway embraced his wife.

'Need Diaper Service'

"I'll need a diaper service," was her first comment.

Judge Thomas said he based his finding "on the fact that there had been such terrific interest shown in this case all over the country, and so many people have offered to help."

When a teller needs a friend

Every teller at National City Bank has a friend beside him who never makes a mistake: an electric calculator. This remarkable machine records each deposit — and remembers it. A punch of the button when you make your deposit and you get a printed receipt. A punch of a button at the end of the day, and the teller gets the correct total of all the deposits made.

We like these machines because they give our tellers more time (and peace of mind) to be friendly. You'll like the calculators because they're always right — and because they get your business done faster.

200 Teachers, Employes Out

State Asked To Help End School Dispute in Texas

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Students have called on the state to help settle a fight between the Irving School Board and fired Supt. John Beard.

The 53-year-old Dr. Beard is battling to keep his job. The board has stood fast on its decision to discharge him.

The fuss raged unabated today while a strike by some 200 teachers and other school employes who support Beard entered its second week. Volunteers and replacements are running the schools, which are under police guard because of the emotional pitch in this booming little city of some 23,000 near Dallas.

Suggestion Rejected

In the latest exchange, the board yesterday turned down Beard's suggestion the public vote on whether he or the board should quit. Beard fired back that the board is "dogmatic, unfair, undemocratic and biased."

As hot words flew, students were preparing a letter to State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar asking help. The idea of the letter originated with nine students, and they said there was no opposition to it from either side.

While a policeman stood by in the Irving Community House, senior and junior high school students filed by and signed the letter.

It said in part, "We, the students of the Irving school system, representing the rights of every American student, request the aid of state officials in Austin for investigation and improvement of the school situation during the present emergency."

There was no immediate comment from Edgar.

'Failure To Cooperate' Cited

The board fired Beard Feb. 16 for what it called his "repeated failure to cooperate with the board on important policy matters . . ." Beard and his supporters of trying "local political clique" and said he will appeal to Edgar.

After a Sunday session behind closed doors, the board issued a statement phoned newspapers by a representative of a Dallas public relations firm.

Vetoing Beard's suggestion of a public vote, the board accused Beard and his supporters of trying to "whip up mass hysteria" and substitute mob rule for legally established procedure.

The board said the seven schools here will be normal by Wednesday morning, adding the only trouble in replacing the nine principals and teachers who walked out is "screening applicants." There are 40 applicants for the remaining 19 vacancies, it said.

Beard, head of the 5,800-student system since Aug. 1, 1949, said the board is "dominated by a small minority considered to be a political clique joined by a very few radical persons interested only in tearing up the good schools of Irving."

"You're Earl Andrews aren't you?" said Mr. Homer. I nodded. "I thought so. I recognized you from your picture in the paper."

"What can we do for you?" I asked.

Mr. Homer smiled. "Plenty," he said. "I'm looking for a professional insurance worrier. I need someone who will be concerned about my safety and welfare. Someone who will figure out just what I need in the way of protection within the limits of my insurance budget. Someone who will advise me on any insurance problem. Local Resident Takes Cerebral Palsy Position

Miss Betty June Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Taylor of near Caledonia, last week assumed the position of director of a treatment center maintained by the United Cerebral Palsy of Fremont, Sandusky County and Vicinity, Inc.

A registered occupational therapist, Miss Taylor will work with speech and physical therapists in the center for the treatment of cerebral palsied children and some adults. The center will be placed in operation March 21 after supplies and equipment are secured.

Until she resigned to take the new position, Miss Taylor served as secretary of the board of directors of United Cerebral Palsy of Marion County and Vicinity since the local group was formed in December.

After graduating from Orlando Senior High School, Miss Taylor took a pre-nursing course at Orlando Junior College. She was graduated from Ohio State University in 1951 with a bachelor of science degree. While on the campus she was secretary of the Student Occupational Therapy Association for one year.

After becoming registered as an occupational therapist, she was employed at Benjamin Franklin Hospital in Columbus as a staff therapist in the O. T. Department.

At present, she is a member of the Regional Occupational Therapy Association with headquarters in Columbus, the Ohio Occupational Therapy Association, and the National Registry and Association.

A member of Epworth Methodist Church, Miss Taylor is a member of the choir and has done vocal work at the church and before various clubs and organizations in the area. She was a member of the Lecture Recital Chorus until taking the position in Fremont.

She studied voice two years with Prof. Samuel T. Burkhard of Capital University in Columbus, and at present is studying with Gordon Almstead of Ohio Wesleyan University.

CRUSADE AHEAD. Evangelist Billy Graham waxes emphatic as he tells reporters in New York about his plans for a 1955 crusade which will take him to Scotland, England and west Europe. Newly-Formed Union Studies Wage Increase

CLEVELAND (AP) — The newly formed, 20,000-member CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union should "seriously consider" asking for wage boosts in 1955, its bargaining policy committee said today.

Local unions should seek at least five per cent increases, or about 11½ cents an hour, the group advised its affiliates.

The bargaining policy committee's meeting here yesterday followed Saturday's consummation of a merger between two CIO unions —the Oil Workers and the Chemical and Atomic Workers International. The 90 delegates to conventions of the two unions adjourned Saturday, but the executive board of the new union has remained for meetings early this week to deal with problems attendant upon the merger.

One such problem referred to officers by the bargaining committee is a job-classification project to eliminate pay "inequities" in the varied industries represented in the union.

The bargaining policy committee also propoosed a long-range program calling for double pay for overtime work, triple rates for holidays and night differentials of 10 cents for the 4 p. m. to midnight shift and 20 cents hourly for the midnight to 8 a. m. shift. The committee noted these recommendations were not a "mandatory program." It said the double overtime proviso was intended to "eliminate the practice of working excessive overtime"

Ashley Residence Damaged by Blaze

ASHLEY — Fire here Saturday destroyed a large part of the floor and carpeting on the first story of Dr. P. M. Sarver's residence. Ashley firemen fought the flames for about two hours.

Firemen were summoned about 10 a.m. Saturday when someone noticed smoke coming from inside the Sarver home. Dr. and Mrs. Sarver have been on a trip to Florida.

Water which entered the basement of the house extinguished the fire in a gas furnace, firemen said, and caused a short in the wiring. The short circuit set fire to the first floor which was burned and charred. The entire house was filled with smoke, officials said.

Estimate of the damage had not yet been determined, but the loss is covered by insurance.

LaRue Baptist Church To Become Independent

Computers for Businessmen

Small-Size Mechanical Brains on Assembly Line

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Mechanical brains cut down to handle the problems of the small business man are being offered in increasing numbers today. And still more are in the building or testing stages.

King-size electronic computers are already in the field to handle scientific and engineering problems so complex that the average man can't understand what they're tying to do, let alone how they do it. They are part of the move toward automation—with the theoretical goal of a completely automatic factory. Some factory workers worry lest they spell loss of jobs.

Most of the companies in the business machine industry also are turning to the field of the smaller computers for specific purposes—such as helping oil companies tabulate automatically the flood of on-the-cuff transactions of their credit card customers; or aiding finance companies handle mortgage loan accounting.

HERE ARE FEW of the new devices just being offered, or promised for delivery within the next year

National Cash Register says that early in 1956 it will install for commercial use the first of its national computers, priced at around $200,000, and tailored to the needs of "any business which can profitably use electronic computation."

The company has built a tape punching machine which can turn a cash register, accounting machine or adding machine into an imputing device to feed recorded data directly into the new computer, there to be handled by electronic rather than human brains.

At a more lowly level, the company is pushing a change-computing cash register. At checkout counters in self-service stores, these machines show both the clerk and the customer the amount of each item, the total charge, the amount of money the customer offers in payment, and the change due. Stops a lot of finger-counting as well as arguments.

UNDERWOOD CORP. will market, at around $15,000, a baby brain for small businessmen. The electronic computer, Elecom 50, the company says, can handle an entire payroll in one operation—including computation and itemizing of gross earnings, and deductions for income tax, hospitalization, defense bonds and social security tax.

Farrington Manufacturing Co. of Boston will field test a new electronic system called Scandex, devised to let oil companies use automatic tabulation in their bookkeeping on gasoline credit cards. Card invoices imprinted at the point of sale with data from customer credit cards pass through a scanner and an interpreter, at a central office, and are read by the eye of a photo-electric cell. End product is what you owe The company says the machine will save hours of clerical labor.

OFFICIALS OF Natural Cash Register, in stressing the cost saving side of their machines, say that the average clerical wage is 4 per cent higher now than six years ago They estimate the clerical payroll in the nation at around 25 billion dollars a year.

Rising costs have urged on the trend toward mechanization. Fear that this will mean fewer jobs has been widely expressed of late.

Management has argued that the fears are unjustified. The Council for Technological Advancement, an arm of the Machinery and Allied Products Institute of Chicago, says automatic processes will increase productivity, causing living standards to rise and thus expanding markets. It adds that by making more jobs physically easier, the new machines will open up more jobs for women.

FORD LISTENS. Henry Ford listens to a question after suggesting to a Senate foreign relations committee that U. S. pay more promptly its pledges to the UN technical aid fund. Ford, president of Ford Motor Co., endorsed in general terms the technical aid programs of both UN and the United States.

Bed of River No Race Track, Youngsters Told

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles River is just rolling along today—without hot rods.

Police rounded up about 150 youngsters who were racing souped up jalopies on the dry, paved river bottom yesterday. About 30 other cars left the police waiting on the levee and escaped up the San Fernando Road ramp.

Police made no arrests but explained to the youngsters that a river, even without water, is a river and not a race track.

Actress Recovering

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. The 22-year-old Italian-born actress suffered a fractured pelvis when she fell while aboard a plane Feb. 25. Her husband is singer Vic Damone.

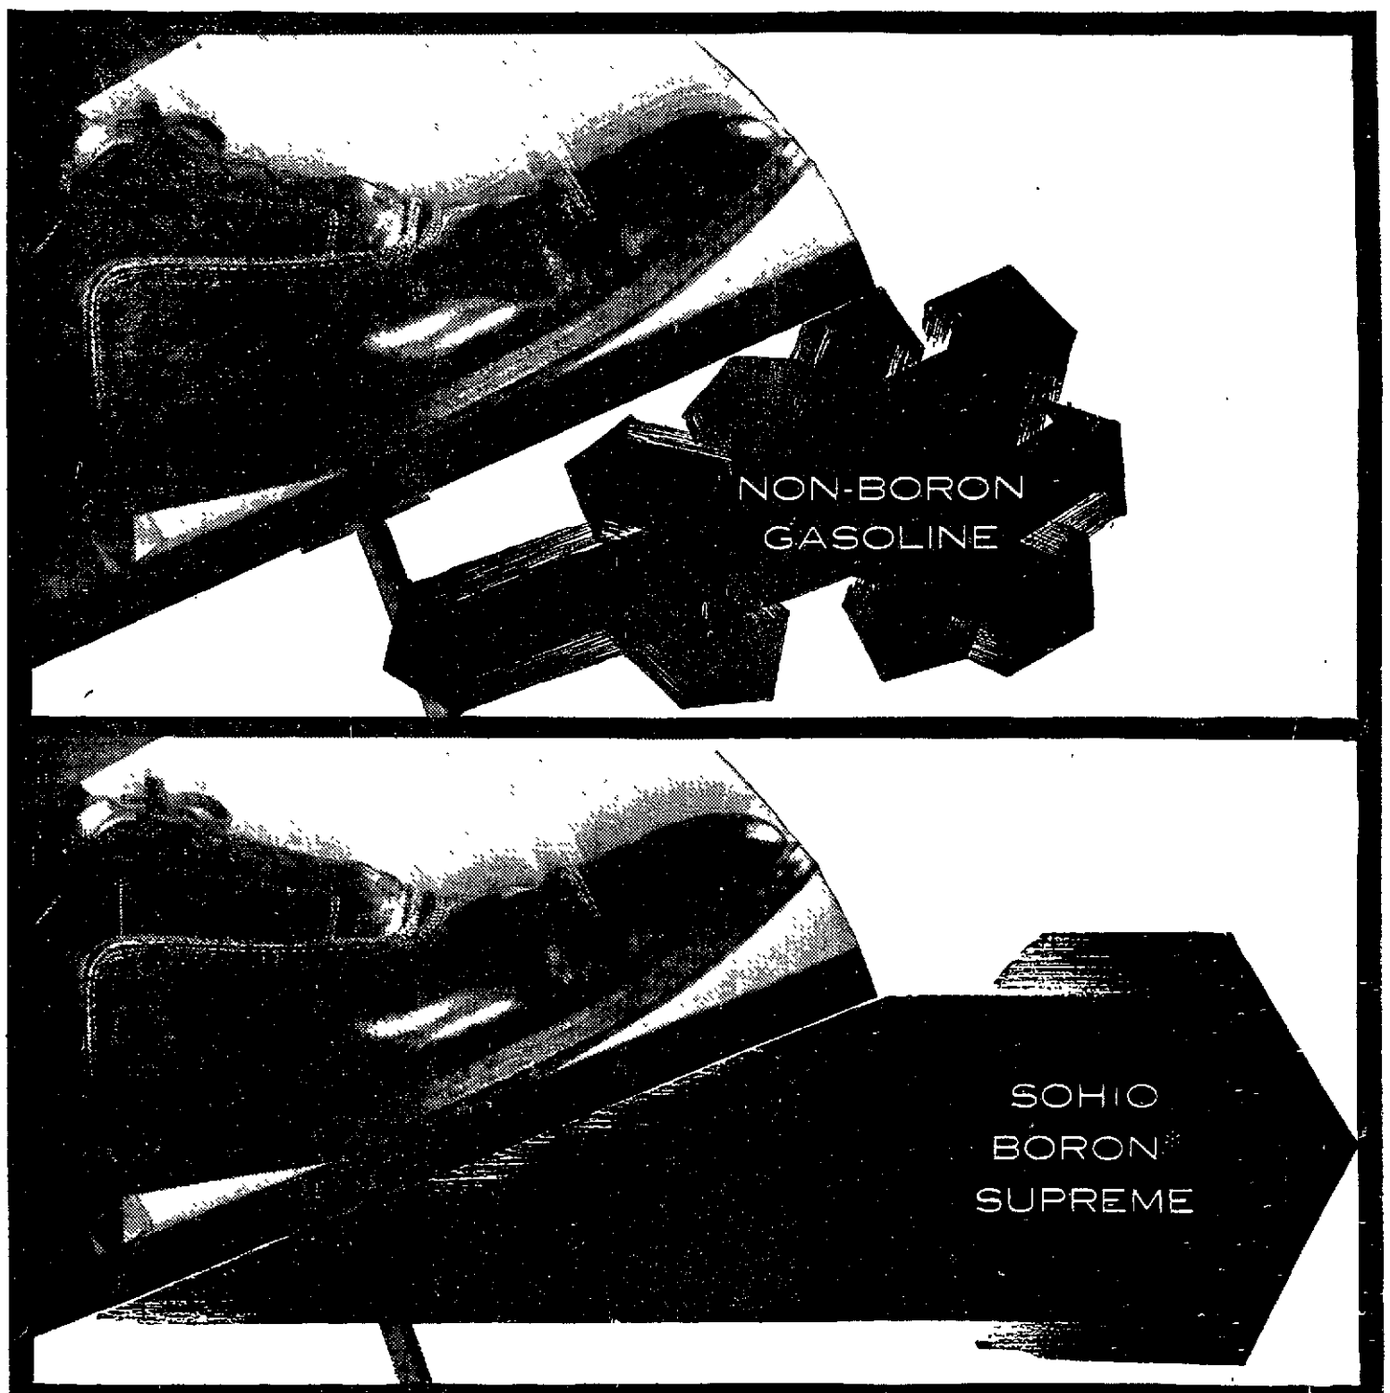
There is a difference in gasoline —and this is it!



Three out of four drivers reporting on Boron Gasoline said they noticed an immediate difference in the performance of their cars.

Why? Because, unlike conventional gasolines which often burn uneven and ragged, Boron gasoline burns with a smooth, even sweep. It gives the piston a smoother, steadier, longer-lasting "push". The result: a new smoothness in power and performance from engines that used to "run rough" and waste power.

In fact, Boron makes such a change in the nature of combustion that the difference can be photographed in a glass-topped laboratory engine. Chances are that you, too, will notice a difference in performance with your first tankful of Sohio Boron Supreme.

Not a Pertinent Point

The Ohio Assembly bill to make mandatory the teaching of certain subjects in elementary grades and high school offers a perfect example of how good legislation can get sidetracked and even defeated over an issue that is not necessarily pertinent to the cause.

The House has approved what is familiarly known as the "Three R's" bill which in effect seeks to undo a legislative "sleeper" of the 1943 General Assembly.

Up to that time, basic subjects like reading, writing, arithmetic and history had been required; the law said they "shall" be taught. In the adoption of a revised school code, the "shall" was changed to "may," and the current bill proposes to change it back.

The snag developed in the Senate Education Committee, which objected to one of the proposed required subjects — teaching the harmful effects of narcotics and alcoholic beverages.

Now no one would object to alerting children to the dangers of narcotics, but strong objection has been raised on the liquor issue, the objectors citing the legality of alcoholic beverages.

The point does not seem to be a transcendingly important one because such instruction would simply be left to the discretion of school administration, as it is now.

But if the Senate deletes this feature of the bill, it is felt the House will not go along, thus jeopardizing the whole measure.

It would be a shame to deprive the bill's sponsors from winning a war just because it had lost a battle that was not considered vital at best.

Softening Attitude

Much water has passed under the bridge and over the dam since 1950 when President Truman was pushing compulsory health insurance and the American Medical Assn. was fighting it as "socialized medicine."

The government insurance plan has evolved, under President Eisenhower, into a reinsurance project for private plans, and the hostility of the AMA toward private plans has steadily softened.

Two years ago the AMA was urging the states to let only professional bodies operate pre-payment medical plans, in which free choice of doctors would have to be guaranteed. And in New York, growth of the non-profit Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York was being hampered by the ruling of a local medical society, later affirmed by the New York State Medical Society, that a doctor participating in that plan was guilty of "unethical practice."

The charge was not that there was anything wrong with the plan itself, but that the doctor had violated medical ethics by allowing his name to appear in a privately-circulated brochure by which the plan sought additional subscribers. AMA standards permit reasonable promotional activities by group health associations but the AMA code of ethics forbids advertising by doctors.

Now the AMA Judicial Council has held that the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York has the right to advertise and that the doctor concerned did not violate its code of ethics inasmuch as he obtained no personal benefit from the advertising.

The new ruling allows group health associations to engage in promotional activities without danger of having charges of unethical practice brought against their doctors.

Hence, it would seem that the AMA has surrendered on what has generally been considered one of its strongest points in the battle against socialized medicine.

It has always been our impression that the real issue was not so much whether the insurance plan was professional, private or public but whether the subscriber retained a free choice of doctors.

The Moon Is Red?

The color of the moon may eventually turn to Red, if we wish to place any credence in one of Russia's latest scientific claims.

A recent news item said a Soviet popular science magazine with the name "Knowledge Is Strength," boasted that the Russians would succeed in the first flight to the moon and that this would be about the year 1974. The magazine article said the moon then would be a Russian satellite, much to the annoyance of Americans.

In the past, Moscow has credited its scientists with several "firsts" in electronics and other fields, after inventions proved practicable. In the United States and some other Western countries, these claims were received with unlimited skepticism. But this new prediction of a Russian trip to the moon, apparently indicates a revision in Soviet tactics which will enable Moscow to brag of all sorts of progress before it actually occurs.

Even before this first trip to the moon materializes we may hear that Moscow plans to send the first interplanetary junkets to Mars, the sun or other bodies in the universe. This could become confusing.

What it boils down to is that Russia is adapting its doubletalk used in diplomacy and world politics to the field of science. For years Moscow has been proclaiming peaceful intentions while fomenting tranquility with bombs. Now Moscow is claiming scientific advances before they actually occur. In reality, from where we sit Russia has a failing score in both endeavors.

Subsidy for Sports?

By Raymond Moley

Russia Sending 'Professional' Athletes to Olympics

It is the dream of every newspaperman to be present when history is made in the grand manner. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., realized that dream when, on his recent trip to Russia, he was able to see the drama of the fall of Malenkov and the rise of somebody else—no one is quite sure which of three possibilities.

Hearst's accounts of his interviews, travels and of the events of the great day are excellent reporting. For this he and his associates on the trip deserve the acclaim of their profession. It was good newspaper enterprise done in a competent manner.

When reporting becomes statesmanship, however, certain difficulties are bound to arise and some reporters are never able to make the transition. That is true just as it is true that writers of opinion usually make bad reporters.

It was quite natural that Hearst should be pressed to state, after his story was told, what he would do about the problem of co-existence. He yielded to that demand in a notable speech before the National Press Club in Washington.

HIS PRESCRIPTION, it seems to me, leaves something to be desired and, indeed, something to be regretted.

In the course of his speech he dwelt upon the emphasis which the Soviet government places upon athletics. He said that this may result in hard going for the United States at the Olympic Games at Melbourne in 1956.

"These Russian athletes," he said, "are not really amateurs. They are professionals. They are trained under government guidance, with government help. They receive bonuses and cash prizes. We should find some way of making sure that our Olympic contenders get everything they need in the way of training opportunities."

The inference is left that "we" should be the government. A federal subsidy would certainly relieve the old grads of many a college of the financial and moral burden they now so cheerfully bear in giving athletes "everything they need." It would also save coaches a lot of time now spent in collaborating in recruiting athletes.

Hearst is worried also about the arts as well as sports. He mentions the theater, the ballet and literature. "We" must do something about these too.

His plan is to have "a permanent national planning board commissioned to formulate a strategy on all fronts for meeting the challenge of "competitive coexistence." This board should be on a level with our National Security Council.

We already are overburdened with agencies directed at the problem of coexistence. There are Commander Stassen's multifarious agencies which carry on all over the world.

There are several agencies in our government whose whole purpose is to indoctrinate our own people as to the necessity of such spending agencies.

In the arts we have the valuable experience of Harry Hopkins' boondoggling with the theater and the ballet. And as to literature there are hundreds and hundreds of publicity people learning to write in the federal departments at our expense.

BUT PRESUMABLY sports and the arts should be "planned." The idea is not new. In 1920 Lenin wrote to Krzhizhanovsky (whoever he was):

"Couldn't you produce a plan which would be understood by the proletariat? . . . We need such a plan at once to give the masses a shining unimpeded prospect to work for."

A plan — many plans — were produced, and see what we have. Planning means somebody to plan and somebody to plan becomes the somebody who compels us to follow the plans. The result is dictatorship.

Moreover, while we may have something comparable and competitive in broad jumping and pole vaulting, the arts present a different problem. For things which are competitive must be comparable.

Surely we want no comparison with the machine made music, art and literature which is being produced in the Soviet Union.

What we have is good and the way to make it better is to keep government planning out of it.

No Spring Cheer for Chiang

By BERTRAM JONES

TAIPEI, FORMOSA

Spring has come to Formosa and up on the sunlit grassy mountain where Generalissimo Chiange Kai-shek has his home the cherry trees planted by sentimental Japanese during 50 years of occupation of this island are in full blossom.

But there is no sunshine in Chiang's heart. His island strongpoint of Quemoy is completely dominated by the Reds. Shells have been dropping into the last remaining area heretofore considered safe. They come from batteries which the Communists have brought up into prepared positions on the mainland's Weitu peninsula, nearly 20 miles northeast of Quemoy — and such long range suggests that the enemy is using Russian made 122-millimeter guns.

Now under fire are Quemoy's last supply beach and its airfield. Soon, it is expected, the Red gunners will get an accurate fix on both. Then what? There are 41,900 civilians on Quemoy as well as an unstated number of Nationalist troops. Hidden in underground dumps hewn from the island's forbidding rock are stacks of shells, weapons and rations — enough for quite a siege. But when the Reds bring up more of those 122-mm. guns — and they have an arc of 400 emplacements ready — Nationalist supply ships can be blown out of the water around Quemoy.

Quemoy is not self-supporting. For one thing, it is short of rice although it might make do for a time with sweet potatoes which have been increasingly cultivated there.

Just as worrying to the Nationalist high command is the fact that any evacuation ships sent to take off noncombatants in the event of an all-out attack by the Reds could also be plastered by the enemy's artillery.

Chiang's spokesmen still affirm that Quemoy and Matsu — another Nationalist-held island just off the mainland and north of Formosa — will be defended at all costs. They continue to say the same about Nanchishan even after the pull-out from there had begun, and their avowals no longer hold conviction.

Peiping radio taunted Formosa that the Red occupation of Nanchishan has provided more favorable conditions for the Communists' "liberation" of Formosa, Quemoy and Matsu. The Reds are now concentrating on Wuchiu Island, just over 100 miles west of Formosa. If they capture it — and the Nationalists claimed today that a determined weekend bid by the Communists was broken up with the loss of five ships — they will have another Formosa invasion base midway between Quemoy and Matsu.

That is why the Generalissimo is in no mood for springtime. The city government of Taipei — his capital — has announced special measures to store food against any emergency caused by an air attack on Formosa.

Townsend Pension Is Hardy Perennial

By Robert E. Lee

If you've been thinking all these years that the Townsend Plan was dead, take another look.

The scheme to let every American retire at 60 on a federal pension is still very much alive. The 1955 version has just been offered to the 84th Congress and its sponsors—Reps. Blatnik and Gubser—count on support from well over 100 colleagues in the house.

Their bill differs only in a few details from the plan with which Dr. Francis E. Townsend first captivated the imagination of politicians and other people in the depths of the great depression 22 years ago.

This is the way it would work, if Congress took the unlikely step of passing the Blatnik-Gubser bill:

Every American retiring at 60 would get a monthly check from Uncle Sam on condition he agreed to spend it all within 30 days in the United States or a territory or possession.

Nobody could earn any money by working while drawing a federal pension, but income from interest, rent or investments wouldn't count.

-:-

THE PENSIONS (or "annuities" as Townsendites prefer to call them) would be financed by a 2 per cent tax on every company's gross earnings and every person's income over $250 a month. The tax would be collected monthly, a feature which permits the sponsors to label it a "pay-as-you-go" plan.

How big a melon would this tax produce?

About 3 billion dollars a month, the Townsend people estimate on the basis of latest official estimates of business and personal income. This would give the 18 million or so persons eligible for benefits a monthly check of at least $125 and perhaps $140.

Everybody over 60 who agreed to retire would get the same size check, but the amount would differ from month to month depending on the state of the nation's economy.

When business boomed, tax collections would yield a big kitty to split up. In slack times pension checks would be smaller, but the deflated dollars would go farther. The fact that the plan is thus automatically geared to both the national production and cost of living indexes gives it much of its appeal.

Essentially this is the same program Townsend first put forward in a letter to the Long Beach, Calif. Press-Telegram in 1933. Bills based on it have been introduced in each Congress since 1935, the year the more modest Social Security System was set up.

Since then, however, the plan has acquired two refinements. Widows of any age with children and persons over 18 and totally disabled for employment would get the same benefits as the oldsters.

NOBODY SERIOUSLY thinks the 1955 Townsend plan is going to become law this year, although its backers hope it may be a lever for further liberalization of the present Social Security System.

Only twice since bills modeled after the plan started going into the House hopper has the Ways and Means Committee—which writes revenue measures—permitted the idea to get to the floor for a vote. In 1935 it got 55 votes and four years later 101.

Last year 177 House members signed a petition demanding that the committee send out for a vote a bill sponsored by Reps. Angell and Secrest. This was far short of the necessary number to spring it from the committee, but the Townsendites pointed proudly to the evidence they were gaining.

Backers of the plan view it not only as a sensible and humanitarian answer to the problem of the aged but also as a salutary stimulant to the whole national economy.

In their own words, it would "provide an ever-expanding market for goods and services through the payment and distribution of benefits in ratio to the nation's steadily increasing ability to produce."

The theory is this:

-:-

THE AVERAGE AMOUNT of money each American over 14 has available for spending each month is about $180. Actually, however, persons over 60 aren't anywhere near the national average. Townsendite figures indicate that women over 60 have about $54 a month in purchasing power and men $104.

Therefore, so the reasoning goes, Uncle Sam should tax everybody to raise enough revenue to close the gap between the national average and the oldsters' actual purchasing ability.

Present Social Security and Old Age Benefits fall far short of maintaining old-age purchasing power of living standards. So the Townsendites want to revise the whole system.

Nonetheless, the energetic three-man lobbying staff of The Townsend Plan for National Insurance isn't modest about taking credit for a lot of the steam behind what improvements there have been in Social Security.

THEY KEEP plugging away, familiar figures on Capitol Hill. They get plenty of encouragement from the doctor himself, now a sprightly 88, who visits Washington often from his home in Cleveland to keep sparking the drive. As if to underscore their optimism, national headquarters is moving to newer and larger quarters. At the very least, the Townsendites can say they don't frighten many people any more with their sweeping plan.

When he introduced the current bill, Gubser noted that the plan was thought "extremely liberal" when the doctor first uncovered it but that "by today's standards it can safely be called conservative."

At the same time, Blatnik said the plan doesn't need any further study by Congress because plenty of testimony already is on hand.

"The only new thing to be presented," he added, "is that the plight of millions of our old folks is even more critical than ever before, and will continue to worsen."

Atomic Tongue Twisters

With all its 600,000 terms, the English language has lagged behind the atomic age, a widely published wordsmith said today.

Dr. J. E. Schmidt of Charlestown, Ind., added, however, that he's bridged the gap between time and tongue by compounding such expressions as nucleonneurosis.

Dr. Schmidt, whose word inventions have been widely published and who supplies words "on order," has compiled a manual on nuclear terminology to describe such atomic-age phenomenon as nucleophobotica — a term applicable to any story or report dealing with nuclear era fear.

"The articles which have recently appeared concerning areas of great hazard or utter destruction reaching from Cleveland to Washington and Washington to New York, are examples of nucleophobotica," the wordsmith declared. (At the root of the matter, he explained, is nux, meaning a nucleus, phobos, fear, and the suffix tica, dissertation.

Nucleoneurosis, or nucleopsychosis, accurately describe the mental condition arising from such fear, as well as from nucleophobosis — the dread of nuclear weapons themselves. In case of atomic attack, Dr. Schmidt continued, a precisely phrased Defense Department bulletin might state, "the nuciumbric morbidity was increased by unfavorable winds."

Dividing the stricken area into three main parts, he explained, the area of massive destruction is properly the nucicenter; the zone of partial damage is the nuciumbra (from nux and umbra, meaning a shadow) and the fringe, or fallout area is called nucipenumbra.

To provide the press an alternative to "fallout," which Dr. Schmidt described as "a dingbat term," the wordmaker proposed nucleoconoptosis — a derivative of nux, konis (dust), and Ptosis (a falling). For headlines, he approved as "provisionally acceptable" the contraction coniptosis.

Other Schmidt contributions to nuclear-age terminology included nucipathy, meaning any disease resulting from nuclear detonation; thermopathy, the heat effects of an atom bomb blast, and radiopathic or radiopathy, referring to the lethal effects of the radiation.

"On the other side of the ledger," Dr. Schmidt recommended such words as nucleomercation (from nucleus and mercatura, meaning commerce) to refer to nuclear material for peaceful purposes. Any nuclear weapon is a nucitelum (plural, nuciteli) from telum (a weapon) and (inermis), having no arms. Nations having nuclear weapons are nucitellic, while those strong in the big bombs are nucleosthenic.

One effect of atomic-age progress has been to throw a huge body of military science into a state of palcomachy, Dr. Schmidt declared. (Paleo is old or ancient, and machie means battle.)

"One might well ask if the Korean War was the last paleomachy of this generation or century," the wordsmith mused.

At the same time, however, he said he's looking toward a time when the world can shake off its nuciphrenia — or case of atomic war nerves.

"Then we can enter anucitelcutopia," he concluded. (The title is cheerfully based on the roots: a (without), nux (nucleus), telum (weapon), eu (good) and topos (place) and altogether meaning in substance, "a good place, without nuclear weapons.")

It was 79 years ago on March 10 that Alexander Graham Bell spilled some acid on his clothes during an experiment, called out "Mr. Watson, come here; I want you" and was heard distinctly on a wire one floor below. This was the birth of the telephone!

It was in New Haven a little later that the first commercial telephone exchange in the world was opened.

How many people realize that Bell was a teacher of elocution who was drawn into his telephone experiments through mere chance, when he met and fell in love with Mabel Hubbard, a deaf girl, being tutored by him? This romance brought the world the telephone and it has been a first aid to romance for millions ever since.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Washington Court House state representative says he believes Columbus city officials and not the state should solve the city's parking difficulties.

Rep. Virgil Perrill discussed a proposed parking facility under the State House with Sen. Robert Shaw (R-Columbus) on Columbus Town Meeting, a radio and television simulcast.

Perrill said he believed the project would cost more than present estimates. He said "you would have to finance it over a 60-year period to get the parking fee down to the point where the people could afford to park."

Shaw said the proposed garage, by using downtown land now "standing idle," would benefit Ohioans. He said the underground facility would do away with unsightly surface parking and allow rebeautification of the State House grounds.

Financial Mystery

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A man was selling cigarettes on the streets for 20 cents a pack — five under the going rate — and a detective asked him where he got them.

"I put quarters in a cigarette machine," the man replied.

After questioning him at city jail, Detective Chief Bernard Waggoner said he couldn't find where the smokes came from but observed "If he can make money by buying them for a quarter and selling them for 20 cents, he ought to be in Washington."

Severest Critic

WAYCROSS, Ga. (AP) — Laurie Lee Sparrow of the Waycross Journal - Herald had just completed a cooking program over WAYX when the station phone rang for her and a man referred to one of the receipes she'd given which called for a "tablespoon of vanilla" and demanded:

"What I want to know is, do you mean flavoring or extract. There's a difference, you know."

The caller was her husband, Lansdale Sparrow who is quite a cook, himself.

11 DSC Winners Honored by Ike On 10th Remagen Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower honored today the soldiers who captured the Remagen bridge across the Rhine 10 years ago.

Invited to the White House ceremony were the 11 survivors out of the 13 who received the Distinguished Service Cross, and four others who played leading roles in the operation.

Surprising the Germans, units of a combat command of the 9th Armored Division got a foothold across the Rhine before the Germans could destroy the bridge, and secured it for use of American troops.

The feat gave Eisenhower, then the allied supreme commander in Europe, the springboard for his final victorious offensive in Germany.

Eisenhower later described the action as "one of those bright opportunities of war which, when quickly and firmly grasped, produce incalcuable effect on future operations."

After calling on the president in the morning the veterans went to the Pentagon for a luncheon given by high Army officials.

The senior officer invited for the occasion, Gen. William M. Hoge, is now in Spain and could not attend. He led the combat command.

Two of the 13 decorated for bravery in the action are now dead. They are Karl H. Timmermann of West Point, Neb., who was the first officer to cross, and John A. Reynolds of Lincolnton, N. C.

The DSC winners include Alex A. Drabik, Toledo, Ohio, and Joseph S. Petrenesik, Cleveland, Ohio.

Pair Connected To Phenix City Murder Case

State Witness Recalled For Further Testimony In Albert Fuller Trial

BIRMINGHAM Ala (AP)—Cecil Padgett the surprise witness who linked both Albert Fuller and Aren Ferrell to the A I Patterson murder was called back to court today for another siege of cross-examination

Defense attorneys have aimed their attack on the state's case principally at Padgett because his testimony is the nearest to an eyewitness account of the slaying that Fuller's trial has produced

The former chief deputy sheriff at Phenix City where vice dens flourished openly for decades has rested his case except for the re examination of young Padgett

25 More Witnesses

State's attorneys offering rebuttal testimony expect to put on 25 or so more witnesses before the evidence goes to the jury for a verdict perhaps by midweek

Padgett a 30 year old construction crew foreman and father of four children told the jury he saw Fuller and Patterson together just before the fatal shooting last June 18 and that he saw Fuller and Ferrell flee from the murder scene Ferrell was prosecuting attorney in Phenix City

The defense has laid bare Padgett's financial affairs in an effort to show he was heavily in debt and tempted by an offer of $11 000 reward in the Patterson killing.

First of 3 To Be Tried

Fuller, still nonchalant despite a 4½ hour appearance on the stand in his own defense Saturday is the first of three defendants to be tried for the killing of the Democratic nominee for attorney general who had vowed to clean up Phenix City He says he was in the county jail when Patterson was killed

Ferrell and former Atty Gen Si Garrett are awaiting trial

Ferrell meanwhile was called up for trial today on a vote fraud charge growing out of the Democratic primary last June 1 when Patterson won his nomination

He and Garrett and a young Birmingham attorney Lamar Reid are accused of manipulating votes in an effort to defeat the Phenix City antivice crusader.

maneuver of exercise Desert Rock VI Then commanding officer Brig Gen Fred W Sladen said there were no casualties

Thus the AEC and Department of Defense finally got 'Operation Jinx' as it was being called off the planning board The high-tower blast was originally scheduled to open the present series on Feb 15 but had been postponed repeatedly because of adverse weather

The test was the product of both Los Alamos N M and Livermore, Calif laboratories and the AEC but constituted a major effort for Livermore Because of Livermore's emphasis on hydrogen weapons there was some speculation that this device might be an atomic trigger for the H-bomb Hydrogen bombs themselves are not tested in Nevada

40 Experiments in Test

The AEC said 40 experiments were conducted in the test These included military-civilian defense and diagnostic that is purely scientific studies

The Air Force brought planes from bases from Limestone Me, to California They included B36's, B47s and F84s in the attack group as well as the usual group of cloud sampling and radiation tracking aircraft

There was no immediate report of radiation fallout on any populated area

The mushroom of the cloud rose to 40 000 feet high at the series and glowed crimson and crimson in the rising sun rays It moved almost due east while wind at lower elevation hurled off the stem and blew it southwest toward Death Valley Junction

A group of 50 observers was awed by the blast from a vantage point on Angels Peak in the Charleston Range southwest of the test site

The blinding flash forced them to avert their gaze When it snuffed out like the filament of a light bulb a perfect fireball rose but held firm about 20 seconds before fading into the cloud

Plain Citizen

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

You never know what you are liable to get into when you act as a plain citizen who helps to pay the civic bills as a taxpayer, and you begin to question the experts. The new rule seems to be that those who call themselves experts having spoken, it is for the rest of us to tremble and obey.

I got into a thing called fluoridation because I read an article in the "Scientific American" about this stunt. I did not like the authors' approach to the problem since, in effect, they started out by telling those who might disagree with them that they were swinish anti-intellectuals.

AS I READ their pro - fluoridation article, my hackles rose and I said to myself that apparently nobody knows whether this thing is really good or bad except for small children and why not buy it in a drugstore. I have since discovered that I have paid cash money to a dentist to do it on my children out of a bottle. In fact, a study on the use of a Stannous Fluoride dentifrice appears in the Journal of the American Dental Society for February.

Having said such things to myself, I thought that maybe I would share my thoughts with my gentle readers, when lo and behold! upon my head fell a mountain of literature, pro and con, articles signed by physicians and dentists who favored and opposed fluoridation and even more material from those who join movements and become fanatical about them, no matter on which side.

-:-

I HAVE NOW gone through this accumulation of literature, first having thrown away all the duplicates. What I discover is this:

1. Fluoridation is good for children up to their eighth year;

2. It can be done out of a bottle bought in a drugstore by dentists and is so being done;

3. It does not help adults much if at all;

4. The dental profession is not 100 per cent in favor of fluoridating drinking water to lessen the danger of caries, which is fancy talk for a cavity; some dentists say that the arguments for it are non-conclusive; others say, "What do you know about it, you aren't a dentist?"

5. Nobody denies that fluorides in water, even in small quantities, can affect the kidneys adversely and can later in life show up in kidney stones; the pros take the position that the quantity used in drinking water is so small that the danger is not worthy of consideration. Still, if you get a kidney stone, you would know that it hurts and can cause great damage;

-:-

6. NOBODY BOTHERS about the citizen who is allergic to the stuff; perhaps he will drink bottled water or gin. When I go to Chicago, for instance, I order bottled water from Wisconsin because the taste of Chicago water upsets my digestion. But what does the fellow do who has no expense account?

7. Fluoridation at the reservoir does not control the dosage; a child who drinks 10 glasses of water a day, gets five times the dosage of one who drinks two glasses a day.

This about sums it up. I have talked to a number of distinguished dentists about fluoridation. What impressed me most is that they object to being quoted pro or con. They say it is unethical for them to express an honest opinion as citizens about a matter which involves the taxpayers' money, because they may only ethically express themselves through learned journals.

Even those who vehemently pronounced fluoridation to be a fad and that they can take care of it out of a bottle feel that they are bound not to get into a controversy in the press because that looks like advertising and therefore is unethical.

NATURALLY, as a reporter, I think that is the bunk but I keep their names out of the story so that they will not be brought before the American Dental Association on charges.

Nevertheless, I get the impression that there is division in the ranks and when doctors do not agree, what should we laymen think?

Maybe fluoridation is a boon, but I remember a whole skinful of boons which in short order were silently discarded and forgotten. All I say is that if the stuff may be harmful to the kidneys why not wait until we are sure one way or the other and meanwhile let the dentists use it on our kids from the bottle.

Clearing The Record

By Victor Riesel

VICTOR RIESEL

Harvey Matusow, monopolist of the liar-for-hire business, is a man of many talents. He makes the cutest animals out of pipe cleaners. He can dance a Kasatska high in the sky on an airplane floor. He nurses koala bears and has invented a stringless yo-yo.

My yo - yo days being over, I'm more interested in who pulls the strings tied to Matusow. They must be inhumanly dedicated men. Nobody could exploit the pathetic self-debasement and self-flagellation of this weird man unless they had stomachs as strongly disciplined as their minds.

Who disciplines these men in whose hands Harvey Matusow finds himself. One of them soon will be named a member of a spy ring. He is also the Communists' counter-intelligence specialist assigned to expose FBI and police agents who have successfully infiltrated the Communists' ranks.

Others have, under Congressional oath, refused to deny knowledge of Soviet espionage. Another directed effective Soviet propaganda for years.

BUT I'M MOST concerned with another field in which Matusow appears to be getting some very important pro-Communist operatives off a hook. Tell you why this field is most important. It is the metal mining and smeltering industry. Over this area straddles a pro-Communist union-the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The union has its people in Canadian uranium mining pits and refining plants. It covers a highly secret heavy water (for atomic and hydrogen bombs) installation. It is in the nickel mines, without the produce of which we cannot make tubing for our hydrogen bomb works. Furthermore, it controls labor in the copper mines—and without the smelting of copper we don't get the ingredients for the eventual processing of high octane gas for our fighting aircraft as well as the copper itself.

This union has ordered 11,000 copies of Matusow's odyssey through nightmares. The book tries to make a non-Communist of one of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' leaders, Clint Jencks, sentenced to jail for falsifying his non-Communist affidavit filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

THE IMPLICATION is that if Jencks a powerful regional organizer and international representatives of the Mine-Mill, is clean, so is the union. Well, let's not tread among the things crawling through Matusow's testimony. Let's junk everything he has ever said. Let's look at the record of Jencks, the man Matusow wants to help.

On Oct. 8, 1952, the Senate's Internal Security Committee questioned Jencks. They asked him how long he had been a member of the union before he became a pie-card artist—drawing money from it as an official. Jencks stalled but finally admitted that he was in it only "six or seven months" before he went to the top.

"Did you join the Communit Party in 1940 while you lived in St. Louis, Mo.?" Jencks was asked.

The chair instructed him to answer.

JENCKS refused on the grounds that he would tend to incriminate himself.

"Just a moment," said the chairman. "If you had not joined the Communist Party as suggested by the question, it would be a small matter to say "No,' would it not?"

"I decline to answer the question," Jencks said under oath.

So it went when they asked him about attending Communist Party meetings and "Are you innocent of being a Communist?"

They asked Jencks, a war veteran, if he knew Communist leader John Gates, as chairman of the National Veterans Committee of the Communist Party. This was an outfit aimed a creating a quasi military force by recruiting ex-GIs.

Same answer, or rather same refusal to answer.

They asked him if he attended a meeting with John Gates and other members of the Communist Party at 3112 West Colfax St., Denver Colo., on Aug. 20, 1946.

Same answer—the Fifth Amendment.

He even refused to say whether he knew Harvey Matusow. Why Did he know him If not, why did he not deny it. Why did he refuse to answer on the ground that knowing Matusow would incriminate him

So let the poor Matusow fellow go back to wearing false black mustaches and selling his stringless yo-yo. But let's not overlook the record—we can't afford to be confused in this field.

Styles in 2,000 A.D.

By Hal Boyle

HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK How will the well-dressed man look in the year 2,000?

If the toys for space-minded kids of today were the real portent of what the future holds, the average American would look with less than joy on the prospect of life in the 21st century. What adult yearns to go around with his head in a big plastic globe and yelling "blast off!" to any stranger who asks him: "What time does the next rocket leave for the moon?"

But be consoled, men. Oscar E. Schoeffler, a fashion authority, says clothing will be even more comfortable in 2,000 than it is now. You may be able to go to a store and have it sprayed on you. Yep, that's right — a custom-sprayed suit.

HERE ARE A FEW apparel forecasts Schoeffler made in looking ahead 45 years:

"Style leadership will definitely pass from women to men. Man will again become the peacock.

"There will be a basic one-piece suit which will resemble a second skin, and other clothing will be worn over it or discarded, depending on the climate. The military services already are working on this theory of many light layers of clothing rather than one heavy suit.

"This basic suit will be one in which you can even sleep. It will have insulation that will permit your own natural body heat to keep you warm."

"But the suit won't make you look like a garage mechanic in overalls. It will be vibrantly colorful and have an endless variety of pattern. The suit may even be composed of new chemical fibers not even presently dreamed of, and actually sprayed on you to guarantee a perfect fit."

—:—

SHOES? THEY'LL BE light and glovelike. No worry over the laundry breaking off buttons. Buttons will disappear and be replaced by magnetic closures.

"Both the basic suit and outer garments will be feather light and carry out a decorative theme, such as some neckties do now," said Schoeffler.

For example, if you are a republican (and even the most hopeful Democrats agree there will be at least a few Republicans left in the year 2,000), you might want to wear an elephant motif during an election year. But, supposing the Democrats carried the election, wouldn't that make your clothing look out of date?

"No problem," said Schoeffler, cheerfully. "Just throw the clothing away. It will be so inexpensive then that wardrobes will be small because men will want to discard them every few weeks and get new patterns.

"Men will definitely set the basic styles for both sexes. Women already have adopted many male clothing styles, and the trend will continue."

WHAT ABOUT women's hats?

"Any man who tries to predict what a woman will wear on her head 45 minutes from now, let alone 45 years, is simply wasting his breath," Schoeffler observed. "But men will probably wear close-fitting headgear with a sun visor.

"In addition to their present jewelry, such as watches and rings, they also will probably carry barometers,, thermometers, small flashlights, perhaps weapons, capsule food containers and radar gadgets. For travel from pole to pole or any other point on the globe will be so commonplace the ordinary businessman will need a survival kit for daily living."

All set for the dawn of year 2,000, men? Then what'll be in style next year?

"That's much more difficult to be sure about," smiled Schoeffler, who will lead discussion at the annual National Men's Fashion Forum show here next month.

"Men broke through the color barrier with pink shirts last year. Soft greens, yellow and rusty orange will also be popular next winter.

"The emphasis will remain on dark-colored single breasted suits with the natural shoulder. The double breasted suit will get even rarer, fancy vests will become more conservative."

The two-pants suit will make a comeback, but—don't cheer yet, fellows—one pair will be sawed off at the knees.

"Bermuda shorts will become widely accepted for office and street wear during the summer months," said Schoeffler flatly. "They are no longer merely a fad."

Salvation Army Will Observe 75 Years of Service in Nation

Services in observance of the 75th anniversary of the arrival of the Salvation Army in the United States will be held Thursday night in the Army citadel. The occasion also will be a farewell for Captain Margaret Trefz, who is returning to South Rodesia, Africa, as a missionary officer. The meeting will be at 8 o'clock.

The Salvation Army, headed by Commissioner George Scott Railton, arrived in New York, and although viewed at first as a curiosity and even as an object of scorn and abuse, established an orginization that today numbers 5,000 officers and 250,000 members.

"We have came a long way in 75 years," Senior Captain Mary Nisiewicz said today, "and during that time have collected many friends. As we celebrate this significant anniversary, I should like to take this opportunity to say 'thank you' to the thousands in Marion who stand beside us with their support, encouragement and friendly advice. Without them we would be hard put indeed, to live up to our credo of meeting the need at the time of need and at the point of need.' As we move on into the future, we pledge that we will not slacken our efforts to meet the spiritual and material problems of men, women and children of all races and creeds in our community who look to us for help."

Captain Trefz returned to her home here late in October last year after six and one-half years of teaching in the Howard Institute near Salisbury, South Rodesia, Africa. Upon her return to the mission field she will be stationed at Usher Intitute, a boarding school near Bulawayo, South Rhodesia, Africa.

She will leave Marion Sunday, March 13 for New York City where she will make her final preparations for her work. She will sail on the Queen Mary March 16 for London from where she will set sail on March 31 on the Winchester Castoe for her new post.

Holidays Are No Fun For California Girl, 8

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Never ask 8-year-old Cheryl Ann Creech if she had a nice time over the holidays.

The Fourth of July in 1948 she contracted whooping cough. New Year's Day in 1951—a tonsillectomy. Her birthday, May 1, 1951—measles. Christmas Day, 1951 — pneumonia.

This year Cheryl had flu on St. Valentine's Day and Lincoln's Birthday and had an appendectomy on Washington's Birthday.

Her mother, Mrs. Jesse J. Creech, gave her a big basket of eggs yesterday—for an early Easter celebration. She is recovering from the Washington's Birthday surgery.

Work on New Municipal Building Nearly Finished

Room for Court, Council Meetings To Be Ready In About Two Weeks

Final phases in the remodeling of the old City Hospital for use as a Marion Municipal Building were reported progressing rapidly today.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson said today that work of remodeling and equipping the former hospital dining room for use as a combined Council chamber is nearing completion.

—:—

THE SAME is true of remodeling of rooms on the second floor for use of the City Health Department.

Mayor Robinson estimated that City Council will be able to hold its next regular meeting on March 14 in the new Council chamber and either by that time or within a few days the room will be in use as a courtroom also.

The Health Department and the Municipal Court are still located in the old city hall in the Eagle's Building on W. Center St.

Mayor Robinson said that both will probably be moved into the new quarters in the Municipal Building at about the same time.

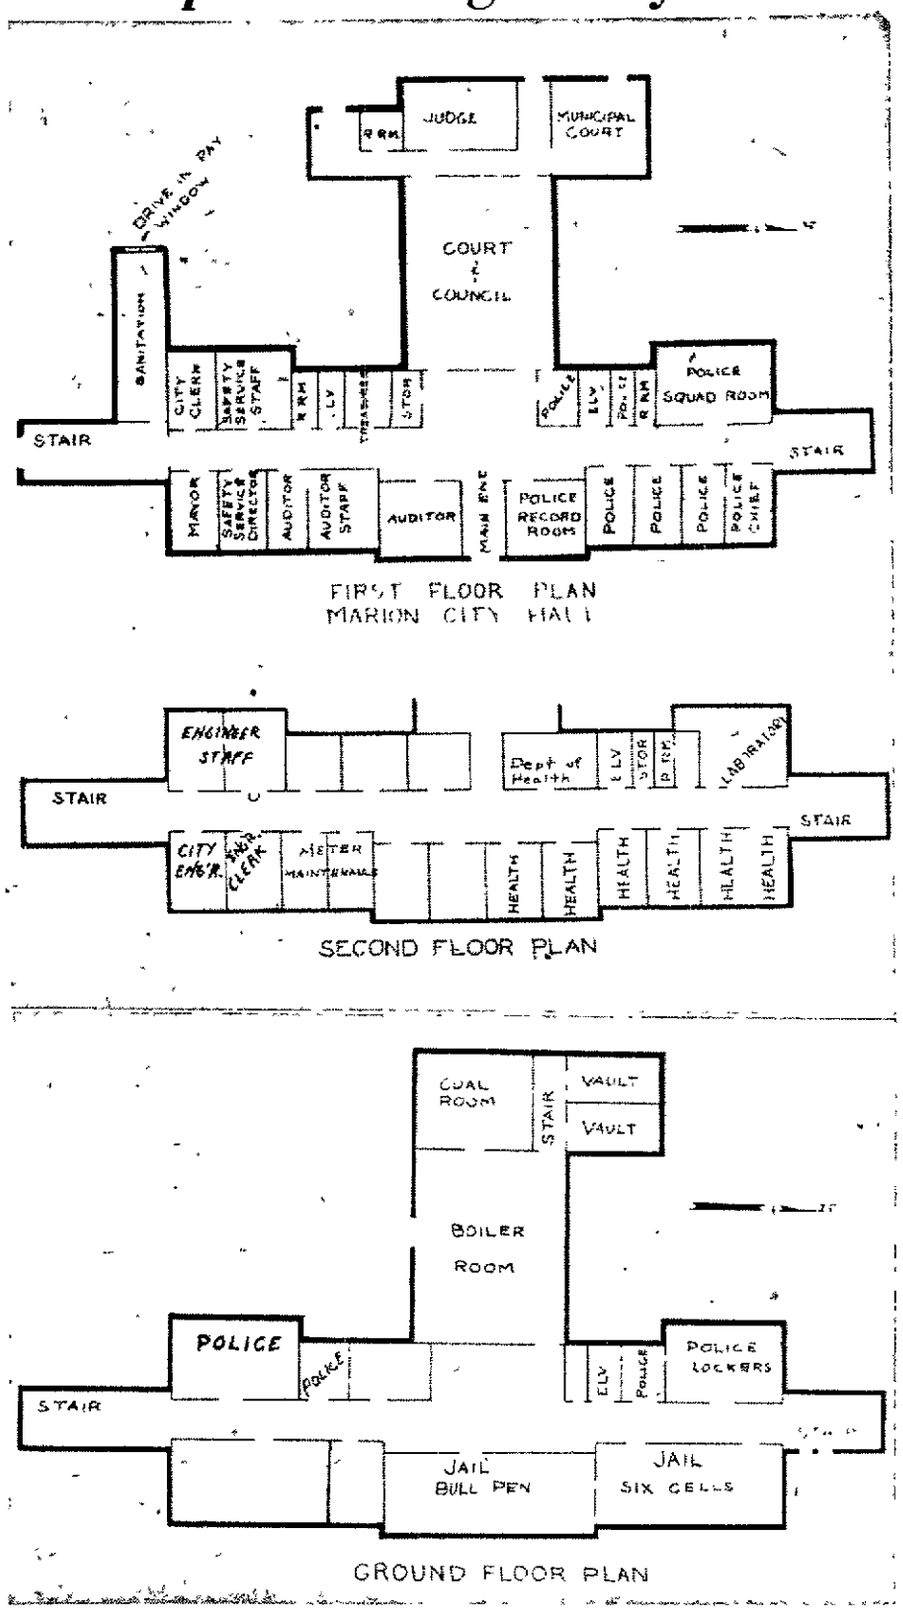
WHILE WORKMEN are busy inside remodeling and repairing the old hospital building, others are busy outside tearing down the annex building. By today they have torn down about one-fourth of the old building, which was erected with the help of federal funds in 1942. At that time it was designed as a temporary building designed to last only about five years.

Once the annex is torn down, the mayor plans to install a drive-in pay window for convenience of Garbage Department customers at the southwest end of the main hospital building. He said this likely will not be used until the next pay period for garbage bills.

The total cost of remodeling the Municipal Building will be some $30,000. This amount was appropriated by City Council last year for the purpose.

The United States had 29½ million children 5 to 17 years old enrolled in public schools in the fall of 1354.



LOCATION OF VARIOUS city offices in the new Municipal Building in the old City Hospital on Delaware Ave., is shown in these floor plans.

UPPER: Main floor on which most of the city offices are located is shown here. The drive-in pay window at the left top in the drawing will be for the use of Garbage Department customers. Municipal Court is expected to occupy its new quarters in about two weeks.

CENTER: Not all the office spaces on the second floor have been assigned. Mayor Harold F. Robinson plans to rent out some of the space to township, county, state or federal agencies if they want or need the rooms. The City Health Department will take over its new offices, shown at right, in about two weeks.

LOWER: No offices are located on the ground or basement floor. The city jail and a jail bull-pen take up much of the space. Plans are eventually to equip the empty room at left below as a women's jail.

Coaching Tougher Than Play, Says Stuhldreher

MEMBERS OF THE MARION POWER SHOVEL CO.'S 25-Year Club heard a talk by Harry A. Stuhldreher, famed as one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" and later as coach at the University of Wisconsin, at the club's annual dinner meeting Saturday at Hotel Harding.

LOWER: Some 263 years of service to Marion Power Shovel Co. are represented in this photo of members of the company's 25-Year Club with 50 or more years' service. Sitting, left to right, are William H. Layman, 57 years; Harry Fies, 54 years; George C. Roberts, 50; and standing, Carlos E. Tuttle, 50; and George F. Lashey, 52. Not pictured are George Fies, 53; Joseph W. Wedertz, 53; Leo O. Thew, 52; Arthur Corwin, 51; James A. Fies, 50, and James Turner, 50.

Former Mentor Speaks At Meeting of MPS 25-Year Group

"Coaching was far, far tougher than playing football. But the coaching game gave me a great all-around education in meeting the ups and downs of business and life."

These were the words of Harry A. Stuhldreher—an All-American quarterback for Notre Dame and a head football coach at both Villanova College and the University of Wisconsin—when he spoke at the 10th annual dinner meeting of the Marion Power Shovel Co. 25-Year Club Saturday night.

—:—

THE MEMBER of the famed "Four Horsemen of Notre Dame" chided the critics of big - time football. "They talk about bigness and success. But don't we all strive for them in business and life? The salesman tries to do a better selling job than his competitor. The lawyer attempts to win that case. We all strive for success. That competitive spirit is the backbone of this nation," he said.

Speaking of "over-emphasis" of football from the viewpoint of a coach, he said, "I'm sure if any coach would have to choose between too much enthusiasm and too little, he would choose too much."

Many times Stuhldreher spoke of the late Knute Rockne in describing what he thought a coach should be. He told how he hadn't planned on football as a career but it was Rockne who told him to give it a try.

"Rockne was way ahead of his time—and he would be ahead of his time if he were living today. In those days coaches used fear as a tool to get the best out of their teams. The players were boys and kids. And then suddenly there appeared on the scene a coach who called his players men and treated them like men. Knute Rockne lifted you up to the heights with him," said Stuhldreher who was one of the many All-Americans developed by Rockne.

He said, as all truly good coaches, Rockne was a great salesman because he believed to the depth of his soul in what he was selling.

STUHLDREHER, who is now assistant to the vice president of the U. S. Steel Corp., said he was particularly pleased to talk at the meeting because in his travels he had seen Marion equipment at work for both U. S. Steel and other companies. "It's nice to see the people who play a part in building the Marion machines which are doing such a marvelous job all over the world," he said.

The speaker quarterbacked the Notre Dame grid squads from 1922-24, gaining All-American recognition there his final season. The 1924 Irish team capped an undefeated season by beating Stanford, 27-10, in the Rose Bowl. A native of Massillon, where he played his high school football, Stuhldreher coached at Villanova 11 years and from 1936-1950 served as athletic director and football coach at Wisconsin.

President John P. Courtright presented membership cards to the new members and congratulated them on their achievement. The club, which honors MPS employes with 25 or more years continuous service with the company, now numbers 280 members.

Included in the membership are seven employes with 50 or more years service. They are William H. Layman, 57 years; Harry Fies, 54; George Fies and Joseph W. Wedertz, 53 years; George F. Lashey and Leo O. Thew, 52 years; and Arthur Corwin, 51 years. Four more members will reach the 50-year mark this year. They are James A. Fies, George C. Roberts, James Turner and Carlos E. Tuttle. Mr. Roberts was presented a gold watch at the meeting by Mr. Courtright because he will mark his 50 years March 15.

EVERETT MILLER, who gave the response for the new members, said, "Seeing Mr. Roberts receive a watch for 50 years of service makes us new members of the 25-Year Club feel like the rawest of recruits."

New club officers elected were Graden Sobers, president; Elmer S. Hoffman, vice president; and Mary F. Schuler, re-elected secretary. Sheridan L. Severns, retiring president of the club, served as toastmaster and Clifford Ward, a past club president, accepted the new members into the club in the absence of Mr. Sobers who was unable to attend because of illness of his mother.

Harry C. Williams gave the invocation and Clifford Ward the benediction. Merle Lashey led the club in singing "America" and dinner music was provided by Billie Johnston, George Lane, and Don Northrup.

Man Gives Self Up, Faces Charge of Petty Larceny

A 23-year-old Marion man who voluntarily gave himself up when he heard police were looking for him today was charged with petty larceny in the theft of a wrist watch from the Best Jewelry Store on S. Main St. on Feb. 25.

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon said that Jerry Thacker Jr. of 814 Silver St. walked into the police department at 6:24 p.m. Sunday night and said he had heard the police were looking for him.

He was charged with the theft of the watch, valued at $50 in an affidavit filed in Municipal Court, Chief Coon said.

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — John J. Kealey, manager of a florist's greenhouse, knows all about plants but admits that frogs have him puzzled.

"I don't see how they got air, food or water," Kealey said, explaining that two frogs jumped out when he tore up a concrete strip which had been in place twenty years.

Prospect Falls 84-69 to Liberty Union In Tournament; LaRue Still in Action

Tournaments Resume

Field Narrowed as Squads Continue Bids for Ohio Title

By FRIT HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another 100 teams—40 in Class A and 60 in Class B—will drop out of Ohio's high school basketball title scrap this week, leaving only 32 of the huge starting field of 1,056 quintets.

The 16 survivors in each class will emerge this week from district play and move on to next week's regionals. Thus far in the tournaments 252 Class A teams have been belted aside, leaving only 56. And in Class B, 672 teams have hung up their uniforms while 76 have clung to their championship hopes.

Out of the scrap are such powerhouses as Findlay's Trojans, their 18-game string snapped by Lima Central; Shelby, its 18-game skein halted by Ashland, which then bowed to Mansfield; and Wilmington, another 18-game winner which bowed to Dayton Dunbar.

Only St. Marys, with 19 in a row, is unsullied in Class A—and that club bangs into Toledo Libbey and its 20-1 record Friday night.

Vienna, the state's No. 1 Class B team, is going strong with 25 in a row, and Willshire of the Northwestern District has 24 without a miss. Should Vienna and Savannah get by their district tests tomorrow night at Kent, the stage will be set for the state's oustanding scoring duel.

If both win, they'll meet Friday for a regional berth and it should be something to see. Savannah boasts the state's scoring leader in Larry Huston, averaging 46-plus for 25 games, and Vienna has Rex Leach who is in second place in the state with a 44-per-game average. One must fall by the wayside.

Here's how they'll qualify from the district meets for next week's regionals:

Class A

At Kent: Six teams qualify for northeastern regionals, sites of which have not been selected.

At Martins Ferry: Two teams qualify for northeastern regional.

At Toledo: Three qualify for northeastern regional.

At Toledo: Three qualify for northwestern regional.

At Columbus: One qualifies for northwestern regional.

At Athens; One qualifies for Southwestern regional.

At Dayton, Troy and Cincinnati: One from each qualifies for southwestern regional.

Class B

At Kent: Three qualify for northeastern regional.

At Dover: One qualifies for northeastern regional.

At Marietta: One qualifies for southeastern regional.

At Waterford, Tiffin, Celina and Mansfield: One from each qualifies for northwest regional.

At Columbus and Westerville: One qualifies from each, one for southeastern regional, one for southwestern.

At Athens and Oak Hill: One qualifies from each for southeastern.

At Cincinnati, Xenia and Springfield: One qualifies from each for southwestern.

Fairfield County Team Nips Second Marion Cage Entry

By JOHN SHORT

Prospect's district title hopes were blasted by Liberty Union, Fairfield County cage champs, Saturday night at Westerville 84-69.

It was the second Marion County squad eliminated from tourney play by the speedy sharp-shooting quintet. It dumped Claridon in a game Wednesday night 53-42 and this week will meet defending champion, Mount Gilead. That game will be played Thursday at 8 p.m.

The two squads battled on even terms through the opening period with the lead changing hands nine times. The Bulldogs' Bob Rodgers and Tom Tussing of the winners hooked up in a scoring duel with Rodgers popping in 10 points and Tussing hitting for 11. The period ended with Liberty Union leading 17-16.

EARLY IN the second period, the Fairfield Countians pulled ahead 25-20 but the Bulldogs came storming back to knot the count on a pair of free throws by Rodgers and Steve Lauer moved his mates out front 27-25 when Tussing contacted his fourth foul and was pulled from action. From there, the Bulldogs protected their edge and at the half were out front by a 35-33 margin.

The Liberty Union Squad cinched the win at the start of the third period. Ten straight points moved the winners ahead for keeps with a 41-35 bulge and the Prospect ace, Rodgers, was removed with four fouls with 5:35 to play.

The Bulldogs' attack faltered without their top scorer and the sharpshooting Dick Byrd filled the gap created by Rodgers' absence and turned in a top-flight performance under the boards while Bob Emery gave his usual outstanding job of rebounding.

The third stanza ended with Prospect on the short end of a 58-45 count.

Rodgers re-entered the game at the start of the final quarter but managed to score only once before drawing his fifth foul with 5:56 left to play. From there the Liberty Union squad finished in a romp.

BOB EMERY topped the Prospect attack with 20 points. He was the top thorn in Liberty Union's side as he repeatedly hit on jump shots from close in. Rodgers netted 17 before leaving and Byrd finished with 12. Mario Mills, operating in the pivot for the winners, popped in 11 fielders and 10 from the foul line, to finish with 32 points. Many of his markers came on setups by a 5-4 guard, Bob Todd, No. 1 playmaker for the winners. Tussing and Levi Bitler each netted 13.

In Saturday night's opener, Columbus St. Mary pulled ahead in the final three minutes to nip a rugged Plain City quintet 51-47. Dave Barker was the big gun for the undefeated Rams with 16 points, four coming in the final three minutes.

The victory moved the Columbus team into the semifinals against Magnetic Springs, Union County entry, Wednesday at 8 p.m. The winner of that game will meet the Mount Gilead-Liberty Union victor for the tournament crown Saturday night at 8.

Epworth Takes Eighth in Row In YMCA Loop

Epworth Methodist captured its eighth straight game of the season Saturday by defeating Rural Salem 63-25 in YMCA Church League action. A win over Calvary next Saturday will clinch the title for Epworth and qualify the Church League champions for a berth in the District YMCA Senior Church tournament March 18. This year's Senior Church tournament will be held in the West Toledo Branch YMCA.

Epworth rolled to a 21-11 lead over Salem and never was headed throughout the remainder of a rough and aggressive contest. Merle Daum paced the Epworth five by tossing in 24 points while Roy Loudenslager followed with 15. Ray Auld's 22 tallies was high for Rural Salem.

Calvary stayed in the running by defeating First EUB 58-30. A victory by Calvary over Epworth would toss the second round into a tie and necessitate a play. Bob Smith with 22 points led Calvary with Bud England following with 15. Roberts topped the EUB squad with a high of 8 points.

Bernie Martin flipped in 26 points as Trinity Baptist nipped Church of the Brethren 50-45 in the final game. Ray Ballenger topped the losers with a total of 19 while Howard Ballenger aided his team's cause by adding 10 points.

The Church League completes action Saturday with three games scheduled for the final week. The play-off game between Epworth and Calvary is set to go at 9 p.m.

Mansfield Bounces Ashland To Capture Sectional Crown

By GARY SAMS

A veteran Mansfield quintet walked off with its second straight Marion Sectional Tournament title Saturday night by whipping Ashland 64-56 in the championship game before 2,4000 fans at the Coliseum. It marked its seventh sectional title in the past eight years for the winners.

Although the Arrows gave the highly-rated Tygers unexpected opposition, Mansfield led all the way and was never in danger of surrendering its lead. The winners went into the tilt as a top-heavy favorite on the basis of previous 90-66 and 89-60 triumphs over Ashland.

THE WIN EARNED Mansfield, 18-5 for the season, a spot in Toledo district play. Ashland's loss closed its campaign at 12-9.

Hitting on six of its first seven attempts from the field in the opening period, Mansfield jumped into 11-2 and 15-4 bulges and appeared on the way to a lop-sided triumph with a 19-9 first quarter advantage.

Mansfield was unable to widen the gap by halftime despite pulling into three 13-point bulges and entered the third stanza with only a 33-24 lead. Ashland made its only comeback bid during the frame. The Arrows narrowed the gap to 36-30 and 38-32 but Mansfield clubs traded baskets the remainder of the period to send the winners into the final stanza nursing a 48-38 bulge.

From the floor, Mansfield hit on 22 of 55 trys and Ashland connected on 19 of 49 attempts.

George Swank dropped in 18 points to pace the Mansfield attack. Phil Tinkey came in with 14 and Jacoby added 12. For Ashland, Tom Enck led the pack with 15 points. 11 on foul shots, while Dick Brubaker contributed 14 and Max Messner 13.

A NET TOTAL attendance mark was set with Saturday night's crowd, tourney manager Ken Somerlot announced following the game. He said well over 8,000 persons attended the four tournament sessions. Saturday's crowd included 2,150 paid admissions. Exact figures were not available immediately.

Dr. Robert Brown, superintendent of the Marion city schools, congratulated Somerlot on his handling of the tourney and presented the first place and runner-up trophies to Mansfield and Ashland at the close of the game.

Bucks Hold Swim Title In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan returned as an athletic power in the Big Ten over the weekend winning the track and wrestling championships and finishing a strong second in the conference swimming meet.

While the Wolverines were piling up points from Minneapolis to Columbus, Illinois was stripped of two of its titles.

A well-balanced Michigan team ended Illinois' four-year reign in indoor track by scoring in 13 of 15 events to pile up 67½ points. It was the Wolverines' first indoor track title in 10 years.

Michigan State, the host team, finished second with 46½ points and Illinois fell to fourth behind Indiana.

Michigan and Ohio State waged a great battle at Columbus but the Buckeyes managed to win their seventh straight swimming title.

Ohio State scored 123 points to 105½ for the Wolverines. Iowa was a poor third with 33. Six new records were set with Ohio State swimmers establishing four of them.

Wynn Ends Holdout, Accepts Salary for Reported $40,000

BY SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

Since pitching usually is the predominant factor in the success of a pennant winner, the Cleveland Indians had good reason today to gloat

The last of the Tribe hurlers Early Wynn a perennial holdout, came to terms yesterday The hard-working right-hander signed a contract for about $40 000

Teams were not disclosed by General Manager Hank Greenberg who still has two recalcitrants to contend with —second baseman Bobby Avila and outfielder Dave Philley

Wynn said "You can say it ended in a draw He (Greenberg) gave in a little and so did I"

The Indians seem to abound in pitching potential for the 1955 campaign

Wynn and Bob Lemon were the mainstays last season winning 23 apiece while Mike Garcia accounted for 19 victories and Art Houtteman contributed 15 That adds up to 80 of Cleveland's 111 triumphs

Veterans Bob Feller (13 victories) and Hal Newhouser (7) plus rookie relievers Don Mossi (6) and Ray Narleski (3) also will be back on the scene hoping to duplicate their 1954 success

But Cleveland also is expecting another pitcher, who wasn't with them last season, to be a big asset He is Herb Score a strapping 21 year-old left-hander who compiled a 22-5 record for Indianapolis

Other happenings around the spring training circuit

Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators ended his holdout by signing for a reported $26 500

With Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs pinch-hitting safely for both sides big Klu's team edged the Gus Bells 2-1 in an intrasquad game

Rookies Bob Zick and Joe Stanka and veteran Bubba Church pitched shutout ball as the Blades blanked the Leonards 5-0 in a Chicago Cub intra-squad game

Walt Dropo hoping to plug the Chicago White Sox's first base gap hit a homer and two singles in the Sox intrasquad contest

Third baseman Jim Finigan delivered three hits and rookie southpaw Carl Duser allowed just one hit in three scoreless innings to highlight the Kansas City Athletics first intrasquad game

Home runs by Willie Mays and Whitey Lockman sparked the New York Giants regulars to a 9-3 victory over the rookies

Bill Bruton belted an inside the park home run with two men on base as the regulars tied the scrubs 4-4 in an intrasquad game at the Milwaukee Braves camp

Holdout Worth Trouble, Tribe Hurler Insists

TUCSON Ariz (AP)—Early came in late as usual

Pitcher Early Wynn is in the Cleveland Indians wigwam now and says his six day holdout was worth the trouble

The husky righthander signed yesterday for a reported but unconfirmed $40 000 plus a bonus based on home attendance That would bring him within a whisker of the Tribe's highest paid star Pitcher Bob Lemon

Wynn, a 23 game winner last season, said Cleveland's general manager Hank Greenberg, 'gave in a little and so did I I'm much happier than I was when I came out here'

In 1953 it was estimated Wynn drew $37 000 from the Tribe but was cut about $5 000 when he won only 17 games that season

Still unsigned are second baseman Bob Avila and outfielder Dave Philley

Avila the league's leading batter last season wants about $30 000 Philley whose hitting dropped to 226 objects to a cut

In an intrasquad game yesterday pitchers Art Houtteman Marian Murszewski and Bob Hooper put the regulars down 8-0 on four hits in six innings Five runs came off Stan Pitula, up from Keokuk Harry Simpson poled a homer

A third intrasquad game is on tap for tomorrow and the first exhibition game comes up Thursday against the Chicago Cubs at the Tribe's field here

18-Hole Round Slated To End Three-Way Tie

BATON ROUGE La (AP)— Three golfers who fought from behind during a tricky wind tee off today in an 18 hole playoff for $2 200 first money in the $12 500 Baton Rouge Open

They are Bo Winniger Oklahoma City Jimmy Clark Laguna Beach Calif. and Billy Maxwell Odessa Tex who tied for first with 278s after yesterday's fourth round

The three came from behind in the final round played as a sudden cold snap with powerful wind gusts played tricks with their shots on the 6 450 yard Baton Rouge Country Club course

However Clark managed a par 72 and the other two got 71s

Additional Sports on Page 17

If they tie again today a sudden death playoff will follow

Maxwell playing in the final threesome fell six inches short of first money on the 18th hole when he missed a putt and a winning 70

I knew I needed a birdie 4 to win said Maxwell and I tried awful hard too hard That putt was only about seven feet'

Marty Furgol Lemont Ill who had a one stroke lead over the field with 205 at the start of yesterday's round found the chill wind and final round tension too much He came in with 74 for a 279 total

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Happy Endings

"TV Reader's Digest" dramas (ABC-TV 8 p.m. EST Mondays) are all culled "from the pages of America's most popular magazine" which may or may not make them the most popular dramatic fare on television.

JOHN CROSBY

The Digest goes in heavily for Americana, for sweetness, for spectacular displays of fortitude in the face of adversity and these TV dramas do not wander far from the traditional paths. The first one I saw was about a woman about to give birth to a baby which has got to be about the most normal thing that happens on television this year.

There's a howling thunderstorm outside. A train wreck sends all the local doctors scurrying out of their homes, successfully out of reach. The telephone goes dead. The husband is all thumbs. The wife is calm, sensible and even witty in the face of imminent delivery. Well, there you are.

-:-

THERE IS HARDLY anything left out of that except maybe a fugitive convict lurking in the bushes. In the end a couple of telephone linesmen help out the distraught husband by making an emergency connection on top of a telephone pole and shouting instructions from a doctor to the husband through the wind and the rain.

And, to add a little maraschino cherry to the vignette, it isn't one baby, it's two of them. And the only casualty is the husband, who in the excitement of having twins, falls downstairs and breaks his leg.

The Digest has always specialized in stories which exude a ray of hope, the candlepower of these rays sometimes getting a little blinding. The idea is that, while human beings are a cussed lot, they can always be brought around to reason and love by a little disaster, especially if it takes place around a hospital bedside.

AS GOOD AN EXAMPLE as any of this genre was the Digest drama last Monday night called "A Matter of Life or Death." This is the story of the feuding Kimbles and Sawyers. Sixteen-year-old Radford Sawyer is wounded in this feud, which stretches back so far no one can remember what started it. While getting patched up in a jail, he gets interested in the doctor's book on anatomy.

Through tremendous perseverance, he becomes a doctor, eventually an eminent brain surgeon. Well, sir, 50 years roll by and there on the operating table lies the grandson of his mortal enemy, his skull busted in the same old fued. The old brain surgeon comes out of retirement to pull the lad through.

The two old enemies — who had originally feuded over a girl — finally shake hands. And, just to put that maraschino on top, the young boy with the busted head gets interested in anatomy, too, and you just know he's going to wind up an eminent brain surgeon.

THESE UPLIFTING tales are filmed in Hollywood by the American National Studios and the film quality is very good. The writing is not anything the Nobel Prize committee need bother their heads about but it is trim and professional and you will occasionally hear some authentic regional dialogue of considerable pungency. Some of the stories are true documentaries, some are fiction, all hew to The Digest editorial policy of sweetness and light.

Well, sweetness and light are all right in limited quantities but, of course, they tend to flatten the stories and especially the characters out quite a lot. First of the Digest dramas concerned the last of the oldtime shooting sheriffs, Jim Roberts, who was brought out of retirement in 1927 to check a rash of bank banditry in Arizona.

Sheriff Roberts, now dead, was a real person and a considerably more complex and interesting and able guy than the pathetic lovable old coot he was made to be on television.

CITES MENTAL HEALTH NEED

CLEVELAND (AP)—"In the past 10 years this state has spent 60 million dollars for mental institutions, and we're worse off than we were when we started," Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director, said on a television program here yesterday. "Ten years ago," he said, "we were 10,000 above capacity; today we are 12,000 above. We have 35,325 patients, and by the standard of the American Psychiatric Assn., we have facilities for 23,640."

DIES AT 100

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Caroline Goetz would have been 101 years old today but she died yesterday at the home of a niece.

Plane is the Pogo, Convair's XFY-1, in its 36-foot tepee-shaped hangar, built in two sections and with platforms inside so crew can work on the Pogo easily. The Pogo is the plane which rests on its tail and takes off and lands vertically.

Woo Forgets To Whoa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A little woo that forgot to whoa is doing just fine today.

Eugene Woo, 25, was rushing his wife, Pui Chon Woo, 23, to the hospital yesterday for the birth of their second child when his car struck a parked auto. Amid the confusion the baby, a 6-pound, 15-ounce daughter, arrived.

Doctors from a nearby emergency hospital treated Mrs. Woo for a head cut and reported both mother, father and daughter in good condition.

Pioneer in Cartoons Hits Jackpot on Daytime TV

BY WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP) — A pioneer of animated cartoons who predates Walt Disney is going strong on daytime television.

He's Paul Terry who began with newspaper comic strips 50 years ago and since 1915 has been doing animated cartoons for the movies. For the past year and a half he has been showing his Terrytoons on CBS' Barker Bill five afternoons a week.

"We've got the top rated daytime show on television," beams the 68-year-old cartoon tycoon who, like Disney, makes his big money from the movies but couldn't resist the lure of TV.

"It's due to the power of the cartoon," he declares. "I think the cartoon is one of the best mediums of information and education. It can put over ideas without personalities — it doesn't hurt anybody."

"The cartoon is truly an American art," he continues. "It embodies all the arts.

"You have the composer who puts everything he has into the music for the cartoon, the painter who concentrates on providing the most artistic background he can, and the animator responsible for the acting.

"Because they're all shoved at you at the same time, you really enjoy a cartoon more the second time than the first."

Terry's studios are in suburban New Rochelle where he still turns out about 26 movie cartoons a year for 20th Century-Fox.

Radio's migration from the living room since the advent of television is demonstrated by the proportions of various types now being produced. Of every 100 radios, 40 are for automobiles, 29 are regular home sets, 18 are clock radios and 13 are portables.

Don't be surprised if Bing Crosby's son Gary joins the Godfrey gang. There's nothing definite but the idea has been under discussion.

Noted Scientist Robbed

LONDON (AP) — Burglars stole jewelry and furs valued at 1,000 pounds ($2,800) from the home of Sir Alexander Fleming, 73-year-old discoverer of penicillin. They also carried away his safe on a wheelbarrow but abandoned it when it fell off in the street and roused sleeping neighbors.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts were marked down sharply today in the stock market in the early afternoon while other divisions subsided gradually.

The drop in the aircrafts went from 1 to around 4 points. Elsewhere, losses were small, while gains in some instances went to between 1 and 2 points.

Trading was rather quiet with the pace right around the modest 2,770,000 shares traded in Friday's higher market.

The depression in the aircrafts came as the Defense Department got a request for information on companies with large defense contracts from the Senate Banking committee now engaged in a study of the stock market.

Most major divisions of the market were unchanged to lower. Oils, however, held out against the downward drift with the best plus signs in the list.

Newport News Shipbuilding was up around 3 points on a few sales, and also higher were Royal Dutch Petroleum, Sunray Oil, International Nickel, Van Norman, Bethlehem Steel, U.S. Rubber and National Distillers

Lower were Santa Fe Railroad, Baltimore & Ohio, U.S. Gypsum, Republic Steel, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, General Dynamics and Schering Corp.

Y Swim Team Captures Win Over Fremont

The Marion Y tank squad notched its eighth win in 11 starts Saturday in the local pool when it downed Fremont High School by one point, 38-37.

Marion's Bob Patterson and Jim Jones started the locals off on their win by sweeping the fifty yard freestyle event. After Fremont tied the score in the breaststroke, Fred Jones won the 200 yard freestyle in near record time. Jim Forsythe followed with a team record in the century backstroke. Senior freestyler Stan Franks won the 100 yard sprint with a last lap spurt that brought him home in front with another team record timing.

Fremont's classy divers gave a splendid exhibition for a one-two finish to put the Little Giants ahead for the first time. Freshman Greg Axe set a new team mark in the individual medley and Ray Tillman added a third place point to put Marion only one point down. Fremont's medley relay team of Gwinup, Carl, and Agee set the only pool record with a 1:34.5 clocking to better the old mark of 1:36.6 set by Springfield Y trio.

Marion's freestyle relay team again provided the winning margin as it won easily in 1:47.8 only one tenth of a second over the team record.

In exhibition events, prep breaststroker Al McKee lowered his team mark to 18.1 seconds. The pool record is 18 flat. Junior backstroker Ed Cooper defeated a Fremont rival in a 50 yard sprint to set his team mark down to 36 seconds.

Next year the Marion team will meet Fremont in a home and home series and also will schedule Sandusky High School. Both teams are perrenial state powerhouses and are the only Buckeye Conference schools fielding swimming teams.

Revived Militarism Lesser of 2 Evils

West Taking Risk in Arming Germany

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In deciding to rearm Germany, the West had to choose between the potential danger of revived German militarism and the more immediate danger of an aggressive Russia.

The potential danger remains although, starting out, German rearmament will be under some controls: an armed force of 500,000 men tied in with Germany's Western neighbors and NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The United States more than five years ago proposed German rearmament and has fought for the idea since. It is coming closer to being a reality. France, remembering three German invasions, has been cool.

In Germany itself there is much pacifism and opposition to rearmament. Under the pressure of changing events this pacifist mood may evaporate and become again one of militarism.

—:—

THE GERMAN military leadership has been a consistently dominant, antidemocratic force, contemptuous of civil authority.

Gordon A. Craig, Princeton professor and specialist on German militarism, in a recent lecture considered the danger of rearming Germany by asking: Who will the new German military leaders be?

Reports from Germany have said only those officers who had no connection with the Nazis will be commissioned. But Nazism was only one short chapter in German history. A longer chapter has been that of the military leadership, anxious for conquest to justify its existence.

It is possible the new leadership, even though non-Nazi, will continue the old story by reverting to type.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, friend of the West, has pushed Germany into rearmament. He is 79 and will not be around long. What happens after he leaves the scene is a guess. The West had to gamble on it.

—:—

WILL THE PRESENT democracy continue, with strong civil controls on the military, or degenerate after Adenauer into a power struggle, chaos, revolution and the return of a dictatorship of some kind?

Rearmed Germany may remain a loyal ally. Or she may burst through Allied controls and plunge into huge rearmament aimed at regaining her lost territories.

The West Germans intensely desire reunion with East Germany, where the Russians have built an armed force with the help of German generals captured in the war.

It is even possible the new military leadership, if it gains enough power, may take Germany out of the Western alliance and shift to Russia.

Craig recalled that under the first German republic in the 1920s, when Germany's army was limited to 100,000 men, the generals schemed secretly with the Russian Communists to get arms.

Perhaps the only happy prospect in the picture of German rearmament, besides the immediate strength it gives the Allies, is that the Russians seem far more worried about it than the West.

BACK FROM CONFERENCE

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister has returned to his home and office here after attending last week the third annual session of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association Academy. The sheriff said instructors were FBI agents and other law enforcement officers. The course of study covered many subjects connected to law enforcement and include the processing of civil papers, handling firearms, and investigation methods, particularly as applied to auto theft and breaking and entering.

The British railways operate a number of firefighting trains.

PASTOR REPORTED MISSING

PIKETON, Ohio (AP)—The family of the Rev. Morris W. Kiphart, 49, Disciples of Christ worker at the Piketon housing project, has reported him missing from home since Friday. Piketon Police Chief Ernest Davis said Rev. Kiphart reportedly failed to return from a trip to the post office.

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" in total national sales

Who says you can't have getaway and gas saving too?

(maybe you'd better try Variable Pitch Dynaflow*!)

As any automotive engineer will tell you, the goal in automatic transmissions has long been a design that would give top acceleration and top gas mileage—and still be absolutely smooth.

Well, it's easy to step up acceleration, or gas mileage—but tough to do both together—unless a lot of gearshifting takes place, which cuts down on smoothness.

So Buick engineers looked to aviation for the answer—and brother! what a wondrous new magic they came up with!

They took a leaf from the airplane's variable pitch propeller—which switches the pitch of its blades one way for quick take-off—and another way for better gas mileage aloft.

They brought the same principle to Dynaflow Drive*—to the twenty propeller-like blades in the Dynaflow "stator." They engineered these blades to swivel like the blades of the plane propeller—and with the same results.

In cruising and in all normal driving, the blades are angled for fuel economy—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

But when you have to move instantly—when you need quick getaway, or a sudden burst of safety-surge power to get out of a tight spot on the highway—you just press down that gas pedal, and you're off in a split second.

You've never felt anything like it before—because there's never been anything like it before in an automobile.

It's action that's sheer thrill—action that's backed by the highest V8 horsepowers in Buick history—action that's sending Buick sales soaring to record-high levels.

Come in and try it, at the wheel of a Buick SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER. You have nothing to lose—and the most thrilling buy of the year to meet.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

HANG ON, ORPHANS OF THE STORM! WE'RE LEAVING BY THE SAME GATE I CRASHED COMING IN — I'M THE NEAT TYPE!

ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure

SEE ZERO? I TOLD YA I'D MANAGE TO SNEAK AWAY EVERY DAY AN VISIT YOU — BUT I GOTTA GET BACK INSIDE THE SCHOOL GROUNDS NOW —
I'M GLAD WILHELMINA SHOWED ME THIS BUSTED PLACE IN THE WALL— NOBODY HARDLY EVER COMES NEAR THIS PART OF THE SCHOOL GROUNDS—
WILHELMINA SAYS THAT OLD, ORIGINAL PRIMROSE HALL IS A SHAKY, DANGEROUS PLACE AN' WE'RE FORBIDDEN TO GO NEAR IT— BUT GEE, IT WOULD BE A SWELL PLACE FOR ME TO MEET ZERO —
I CAN'T SEE HOW ONE LITTLE KID AN ONE LITTLE DOG COULD SHAKE IT DOWN!
